Israelis Hit Arab Camps Inside Syria

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli forces crossed the border to attack today for the fifth day in less than a week as fighter-bombers strafed and bombed Arab guerrilla camps in the desert of southern Syria.

The Syrian army placed the assault 60 miles south of the capital of Damascus and said three guerrillas and two Syrians were killed.

The air and artillery assault was a reprisal attack against guerrillas based in Syria who had fired at Israeli positions in the occupied Golan Heights 13 times in the past four days, the Israelis said.

The Israeli military command said all planes returned safely, despite Arab claims of intensive anti-aircraft fire. Seven Arab guerrilla centers came under fire, a military spokesman said.

Israel accused the Syrian government of supporting and encouraging the guerrillas.

The attack into Syria—the first since Jan. 24—came after four days of Israeli operations against Arab guerrillas in southeast Lebanon. Israel claimed about 50 terrorists were killed in the Lebanese operation, which ended Monday.

Today's raids appeared to have the same aim as the attacks into Lebanon—to break

Big Troop Cut From Vietnam Announced

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced the second biggest troop cut of the Vietnam war today, leaving fewer than 10,000 American combat infantrymen and artillerymen in the Saigon, Cam Ranh Bay and Da Nang regions.

Among the units included in the 4,940-man reduction was the 2nd Squadron of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment. The night before one of its 1,060 men was killed and five were wounded in a clash 24 miles northeast of Saigon.

The other big unit was the 5th Battalion, 42nd Artillery, whose authorized strength was 600 men.

In all, 32 Army units and one small Air Force detachment were phased out.

The U.S. Command said it was the largest single reduction since last July 1, when 6,095 troops were pared. The cutbacks today reduced total U.S. strength in Vietnam to fewer than 120,000 men from a peak of 543,000 in April 1969.

President Nixon has ordered this force cut to 69,000 by May 1.

The clash in which the armored cavalry squadron suffered its casualties was one of three fought Tuesday by units from the 1st Air Cavalry Division in the Saigon region.

Two fights flared after an American patrol detected an enemy squad moving toward night campsites near fire bases Gibraltar and Fiddler's Green, a U.S. spokesman said.

The U.S. troops engaged the approaching enemy and called in rocket-firing helicopters for support, he said. One American and one enemy soldier were killed and five Americans were wounded, the spokesman reported.

The third fight broke out about 40 miles east of Saigon in Long Khanh Province.

"Our guys were on patrol, spotted some enemy in the jungle and tried to set up a hasty ambush," said a military source. "Shots were exchanged. They fired B40s (rockets) and three of our guys were hit."

Loss Sues For Spot On Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Donald Loss, Toledo motel operator ruled off the ballot in Lucas County in his bid for Republican state central committee, has challenged the action in the Ohio Supreme Court.

Loss, 42, who would have opposed State GOP Chairman John S. Andrews for the committee seat, announced the court move at a news conference.

He said in a statement: "I have today filed suit in the Ohio Supreme Court to assert my right to be listed on the ballot as candidate for the Republican state central committee from the 9th congressional district... the people of Toledo deserve a choice as to who should represent them on this most important body. Freedom of choice should not be frustrated by a supposed technicality."

His candidacy represented an immediate challenge to Andrews' state chairmanship because under the GOP bylaws, the central committee elects the state chairman from its membership.

The Lucas County Board of Elections ruled Loss off the May ballot for failure to complete the necessary affidavit to circulate petitions as a candidate. Loss called it a technicality. The omission was failure to list the number of signatures on a petition.

Gubernatorial 'Team' Vote Turned Down

Election Amendment Killed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two bills were introduced in the Senate and six in the House Tuesday as the 109th General Assembly opened its 1972 session.

The House passed three minor bills during the day.

And in a surprise move, the House State Government Committee killed a proposal for a constitutional amendment to permit the governor and lieutenant governor candidates to run as a team.

One of the bills introduced in the Senate would prevent the planned razing of the Statehouse Annex when the new state office building is completed across the street from the capitol.

The measure, introduced by Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, proposed the annex be kept as a state memorial and office building. It now houses the attorney general's office and the Ohio Supreme Court.

The proposal to ensure that the governor and lieutenant governor be of the same political party was deleted by an 8-7 vote from a resolution that, if passed by both houses, would put on the November ballot suggestions for updating Ohio's constitution.

The committee then defeated, but by only one vote short of the three-fourths margin needed, a motion to reconsider the action.

A further attempt to get the provision back in the resolution is expected when the measure goes to the House floor.

The controversial strip mine bill apparently still is on the legislature's priority list of things to do.

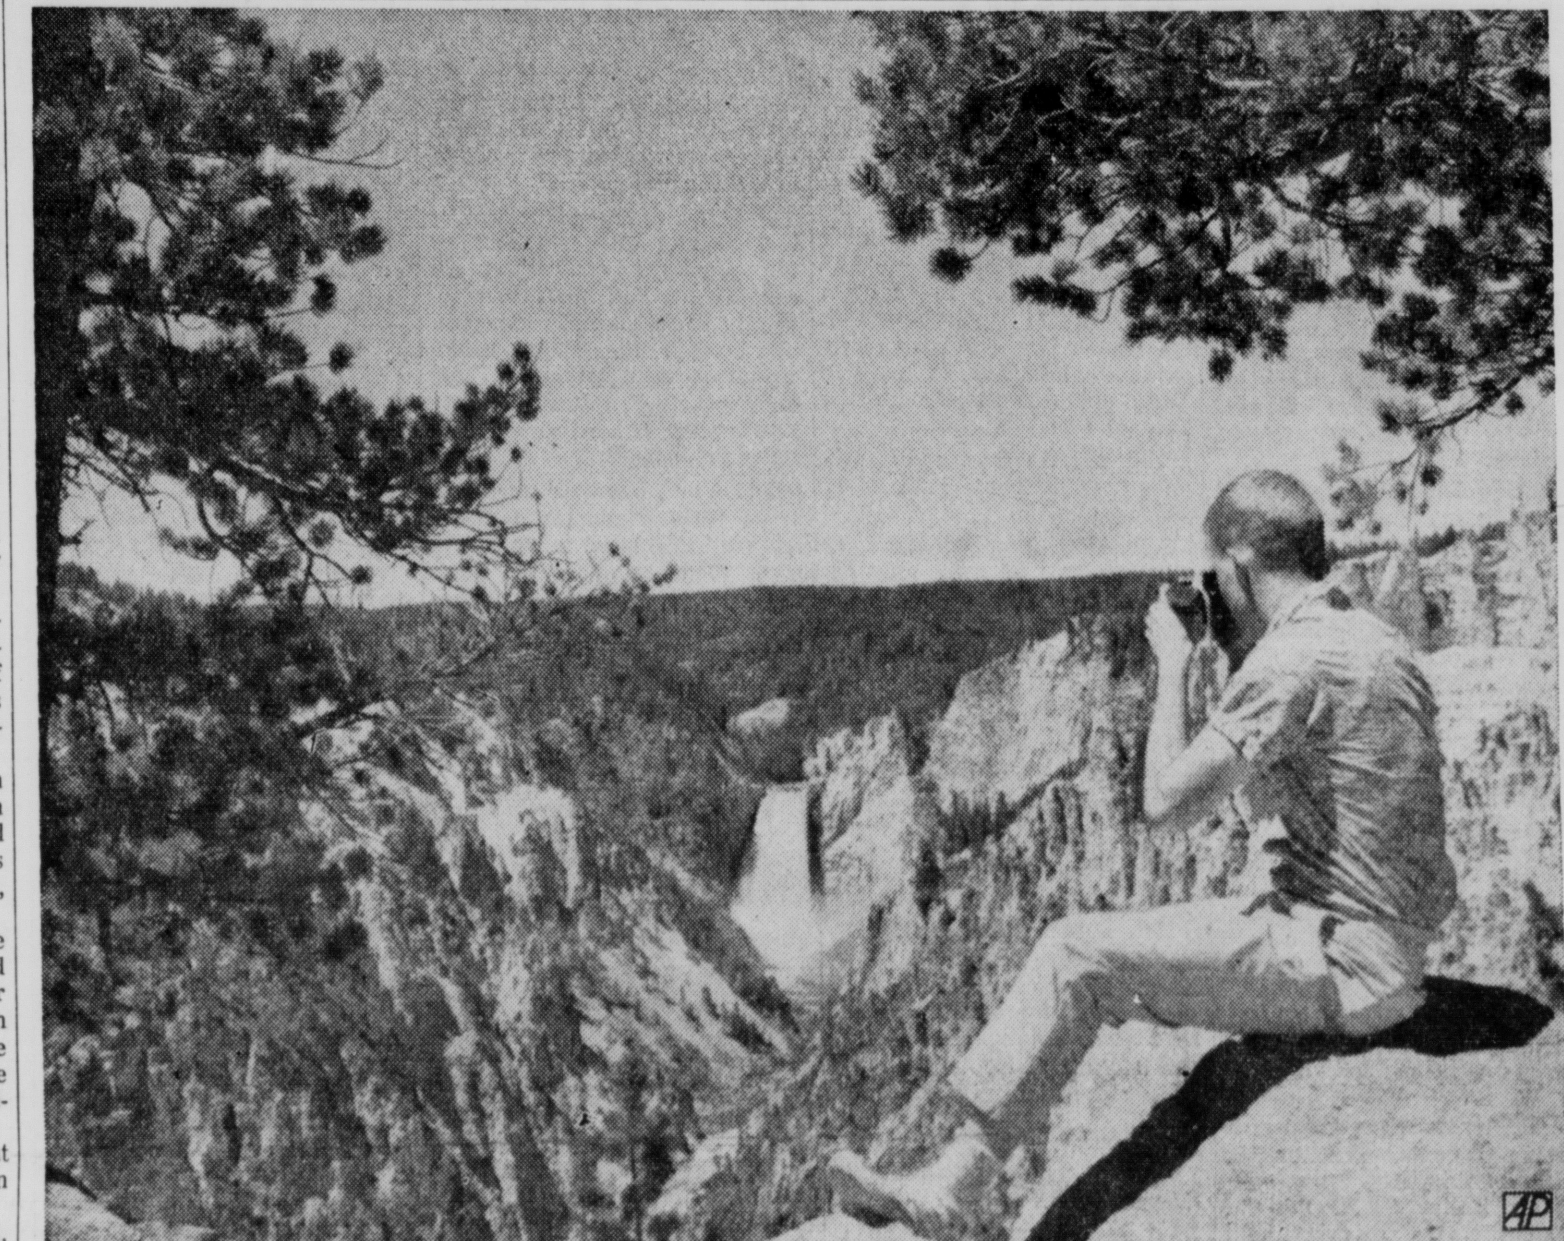

Both Gov. John Gilligan and Republican legislative leaders Tuesday called the bill one of the most important items before the General Assembly.

Some 15 to 20 employees of strip mines showed up in the statehouse to protest the strip mine bill that would require stripped land to be returned to its original contour after the mining is finished.

All members of the United Mine Workers Union, the miners said that if the bill passes the Senate as it came out of the House last October it would

Gilligan Lashes Strip Mine Chief

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan used a forum provided by the legislature Tuesday night to attack what he called "brazen and brutal attempts" to stymie strip mine legislation.

Gilligan, a Democrat, strayed from his prepared text before the opening of the 1972 session of the 109th general assembly to attack comments of Eralph Hatch, president of the Hanna Coal Co.

The governor did not mention Hatch or his firm by name but left little doubt as to who he meant. Hatch said Sunday in Cadiz that the Hanna Coal would cease surface operations if the House-passed strip mine legislation made it through the Senate and into law.

Gilligan labeled it an attempt to "blackmail this government by threatening the livelihood of hundreds of miners and their families."

Tracking Dog Banned From Sheriff's Car

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Gino, a tracking dog, was given a citation last week for taking part in 15 arrests last year. He has been working with Kent County Deputy James Rabbai, who owns and trains him.

Now Gino has been told he can't ride in cruisers any more—a victim of his own hair. Deputies using the same patrol car on other shifts complained about dog hair getting on their clothing or flying about when windows were opened.

He said Hatch's complaints about the bill are "dishonest."

The closest Gilligan came to identifying Hatch was by calling him the "president of a giant coal company."

Gilligan, as expected, pressed the Republican-dominated legislature for action on the strip mine bill, environmental protection, transportation and pollution legislation.

The governor's press secretary, Robert Tenenbaum, said and against the people of this state are an outrage that I for one do not propose to tolerate or condone," Gilligan said.

Mansfield And Scott Receive Invitations To Visit China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two top Senate Leaders, former Far East history professor Mike Mansfield and Chinese art expert Hugh Scott, have been invited to visit China.

They hope to make the trip in late spring or summer and, in Democratic Leader Mansfield's words, "add a few more bricks" to the foundation laid on President Nixon's just-completed journey.

Nixon relayed Premier Chou En-lai's invitation to Mansfield and Scott Tuesday, then received praise from congressional leaders as he reported on his own historic mission.

Mansfield, who visited China in 1921 as a Marine private and who still holds a professorship in Far East history at the University of Montana, has been trying to visit China for two years. He was last there in 1944.

The White House also said Tuesday that President Nixon had spoken with Chinese leaders about John Thomas Downey, an American pilot held in China since the Korean War.

"The matter was discussed from the standpoint of mercy and compassion," said White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

Downey, charged with espionage in 1952, had his sentence commuted from life to five years last December.

Ziegler refused to disclose details of Nixon's discussions about Downey.

Republican Leader Scott, who has one of the country's most extensive private collections of Chinese art, last visited the mainland in 1947.

He met Chou while a U.S. delegate to a meeting of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in New Delhi, India, in 1950.

Scott said the trip couldn't come until Congress is in recess, possibly at the time of the national political conventions this summer.

Gilligan's departure from his prepared text to attack the Hanna Coal Co. president was "off the top of his head."

Several statehouse newsmen said later they had been told in advance the attack was coming. A coal company lobbyist said he understood the remarks were originally in Gilligan's speech, then withdrew and later re-inserted.

The strip mine bill, which would require operators to return stripped land to its original contour is now in a Senate urban and highway affairs subcommittee. The measure passed the House in October by a 94-0 vote.

"To say that legislation which passed the House unanimously is a threat to the coal industry of eastern Ohio is a direct affront to every single member of the House... who studied the bill, discussed, de-

Taft And Saxbe Cast Opposing Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Republican Sens. William Saxbe and Robert Taft Jr. cast opposite votes twice on school busing measures before the Senate Tuesday. Both times Saxbe was with the majority.

Taft voted for and Saxbe against an amendment defeated 50-47 which would have barred the federal courts from ordering school busing. Saxbe voted for and Taft against an amendment adopted 63-34 to put mild restrictions on school busing, but permit it where ordered by federal courts.

Columbia Gas Seeks Okay To Refuse New Customers

Columbia Gas of Ohio Inc., and Ohio Valley Gas Co. asked the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio Tuesday for permission to refuse service to new residential customers in order to assure adequate service for their more than one million existing residential, commercial and industrial customers in Ohio.

W. F. Laird, Columbus, president of the two Columbus-based subsidiaries of the Columbia Gas System that serve customers in 62 Ohio counties, said the complete freeze on new gas sales was requested after a thorough analysis of the companies' gas supply situation indicated they could not continue to take on new residential customers without impairing service to existing customers.

"Despite continued efforts on our part, we will not be able to contract for any more gas during the winter of 1972-73 than we have contracts for this winter," Laird said. "Next winter we will have to live within the same volumes we now have available and the only way we can do this is to restrict new sales."

Laird emphasized that the request, if granted by the PUCO, would have no effect on current commitments to present customers.

Columbia Gas of Ohio and Ohio Valley Gas have had varying degrees of limitations on new sales to large volume customers in effect since April, 1970, and currently have a freeze on new sales to all industrial and commercial customers.

"Our companies and the Columbia Gas System — in common with almost every other company in the gas industry — now face gas supply problems which continue to become more intense," Laird said.

There are no appreciable amounts of additional gas scheduled to be available to the Columbia System until mid-1973 when a reforming plant that will convert petroleum liquids into 88 billion cubic feet of pipeline quality gas annually is scheduled to begin operation at Green Springs, Ohio, Laird said.

MAN, W. Va. (AP) — Funerals were scheduled to begin today for some of the 71 known victims of a killer flood that ripped down 17-mile-long Buffalo Creek here Saturday. Meanwhile a declaration that the area is a public health and safety hazard went into effect this morning.

Crews continued to clean up the flood-torn valley in southern West Virginia and search for more bodies, as thousands of homeless persons lined up at the Man High School to apply for federal aid programs.

State Health Director Dr. N. H. Dyer declared the area, filled with debris and mud and the odor of death, a public health and safety hazard "to safeguard the health, safety and welfare of the people... by preventing the spread of any communicable, contagious or infectious diseases which may originate from these unsanitary conditions."

Health officials have been giving typhoid shots to those in the Buffalo Creek hollow, and several cases of chicken pox have been reported among those who made their way over the mountains to safety.

But because life was good there and reserves of coal remain to be dug, Man Mayor Rayman Herman believes the wasteland hollow will again be home to the thousands of refugees.

"I think 99 per cent of the people want to go back," Herman said Tuesday as bulldozers plowed their way through the debris that once was 16 coal camps along the creek.

"I've lived here all my life," James Chapman, a 46-year-old miner, said Tuesday. "Where else would I go?" he asked as bulldozers neared the remains of his home, two cars and a boat.

"They don't give up very easy, said Herman, who owns a store at the hard-hit community of Lorado. "They're very much interested in going back home."

Crews of Red Cross and other volunteer workers plowed through the hollow Tuesday delivering emergency food supplies.

Guardsmen continued to sit through the remains of the flood's onslaught. They found several more bodies and built fires to dispose of the refuse that began to take on the odor of rotting flesh. The 70-degree temperatures Tuesday also aroused rattlesnakes, which bit five people.

Herman said he believed the flood was "an act of God," and that neither the Buffalo Mining Co., which operated the dam

Irish Gunmen Claim 2 Victims

Attacks Blamed On IRA Forces

BELFAST (AP) — Gunmen killed one militiaman in front of his daughter Tuesday night and murdered another one today as he climbed into his car. Terrorists also seriously wounded a policeman and a British soldier Tuesday.

The attacks were blamed on the Irish Republican Army and brought the death toll in Northern Ireland's communal warfare to 253 in the last 31 months.

The latest victim of terrorist bullets was militia Pvt. T. J. Fletcher. Four gunmen shot him outside his home in County Fermanagh.

Two hooded gunmen knocked on the door of Harry Dixon, a militia sergeant in Armagh, just before midnight, then burst in and shot him in the head. His 11-year-old daughter witnessed the killing and was wounded in the leg.

Gunmen hiding on the grounds of a factory in Newry shot a policeman in the head, and a sniper in the Little Diamond area of Belfast shot Sgt. John McPherson in the temple after the soldier's unit helped put down a riot there. The army flew a brain surgeon from Britain to operate on him and brought his wife from Germany to his bedside.

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Brian Faulkner accused Prime Minister Jack Lynch of the Irish Republic of timid handling of the IRA.

"It is as plain as a pike-staff," he said, "that without the free haven of the republic the terrorists would be run into the ground within a very short time."

"Is he—Lynch—admitting that his government holds office by courtesy of a gang of murderers?"

"Are the resources of decency and democracy really so low in the republic that concern for the lives of people has to take second place to the political sacred cow of 'ultimate aspirations for unity'?"

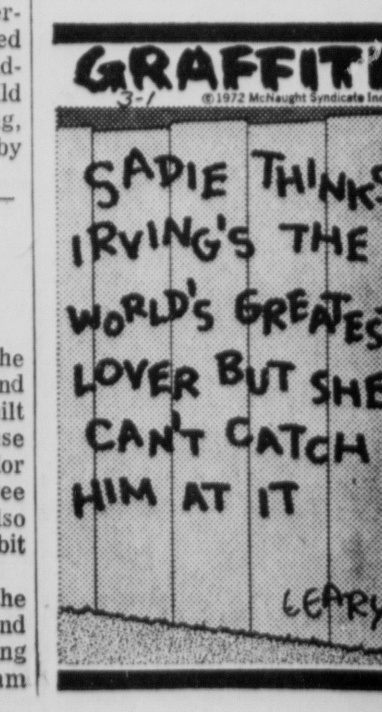

2 Men Killed Changing Tire

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two men, one an Ohioan, were injured fatally Tuesday night when they were struck by a passing car as they were changing a tire on Interstate 270 in northwest St. Louis County.

The car did not stop.

The Missouri Highway Patrol identified the victims as James W. Reagan, 40, of Springfield, Ohio, and Robert Fineup, 46, of Glasgow Village, Mo.

The patrol said the Rev. Oliver Reagan, 36, a Catholic priest from Glencoe, Mo., was holding a flashlight while his brother and Fineup changed the tire, but he was not injured.

Israelis Hit Arab Camps Inside Syria

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli forces crossed the border to attack today for the fifth day in less than a week as fighter-bombers strafed and bombed Arab guerrilla camps in the desert of southern Syria.

The Syrian army placed the assault 60 miles south of the capital of Damascus and said three guerrillas and two Syrians were killed.

The attack into Syria—the first since Jan. 24—came after four days of Israeli operations against Arab guerrillas in southern Lebanon. Israel claimed about 50 terrorists were killed in the Lebanese operation, which ended Monday.

Today's raids appeared to have the same aim as the attacks into Lebanon—to break up guerrilla concentrations and to force the Arab government to clamp down on guerrilla operations.

The Syrian army was accused of handing over camps to the guerrillas, and training, arming and feeding them. Syrian President Hafez Assad was quoted as telling an Arab newspaper last year—when guerrillas hit Israel 39 times in two months—that “we are strengthening them and spurring them on.”

A Syrian army communiqué said the shelling began at 3:15 a.m. and “the enemy opened mortar, artillery and tank fire on three Syrian villages opposite the cease-fire line. Our positions returned the fire. Two citizens were killed, a woman wounded and a school destroyed in the barrage.”

The Syrian communiqué said the air attack began four hours later when “a formation of enemy planes penetrated Syrian air space and bombed Palestinian guerrilla positions near the town of Dera’a in southern Syria.”

Meanwhile, Arab gunners in Lebanon fired a number of Soviet Katyusha rockets at the Israeli development town of Kiryat Shmona in Upper Galilee early today. The Israelis returned the fire and reported no casualties.

Gilligan Lashes Strip Mine Chief

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. John Gilligan used a forum provided by the legislature Tuesday night to attack what he called “brazen and brutal attempts” to stymie strip mine legislation.

Gilligan, a Democrat, strayed from his prepared text before the opening of the 1972 session of the 109th general assembly to attack comments of Eralph Hatch, president of the Hanna Coal Co.

The governor did not mention Hatch or his firm by name but left little doubt as to who he meant. Hatch said Sunday in Cadiz that the Hanna Coal would cease surface operations if the House-passed strip mine legislation made it through the Senate and into law.

Gilligan labeled it an attempt to “blackmail this government by threatening the livelihood of hundreds of miners and their families.”

Tracking Dog Banned From Sheriff's Car

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Gino, a tracking dog, was given a citation last week for taking part in 15 arrests last year. He has been working with Kent County Deputy James Rabbai, who owns and trains him.

Now Gino has been told he can't ride in cruisers any more—a victim of his own hair. Deputies using the same patrol car on other shifts complained about dog hair getting on their clothing or flying about when windows were opened.

He said Hatch's complaints about the bill are “dishonest.” The closest Gilligan came to identifying Hatch was by calling him the “president of a giant coal company.” Hanna Coal is one of Ohio's largest mining operations and has extensive strip mines in southeastern Ohio.

“His threats against the orderly processes of government, and against the people of this state are an outrage that I for one do not propose to tolerate or condone,” Gilligan said.

Gilligan, as expected, pressed the Republican-dominated legislature for action on the strip mine bill, environmental protection, transportation and pollution legislation.

The governor's press secretary, Robert Tenenbaum, said

Mansfield And Scott Receive Invitations To Visit China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two top Senate Leaders, former Far East history professor Mike Mansfield and Chinese art expert Hugh Scott, have been invited to visit China.

They hope to make the trip in late spring or summer and, in Democratic Leader Mansfield's words, “add a few more bricks” to the foundation laid on President Nixon's just-completed journey.

Nixon relayed Premier Chou En-lai's invitation to Mansfield and Scott Tuesday, then received praise from congressional leaders as he reported on his own historic mission.

Mansfield, who visited China in 1921 as a Marine private and who still holds a professorship in Far East history at the University of Montana, has been trying to visit China for two years. He was last there in 1944.

The White House also said Tuesday that President Nixon had spoken with Chinese leaders about John Thomas Downey, an American pilot held in China since the Korean War.

“The matter was discussed from the standpoint of mercy and compassion,” said White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

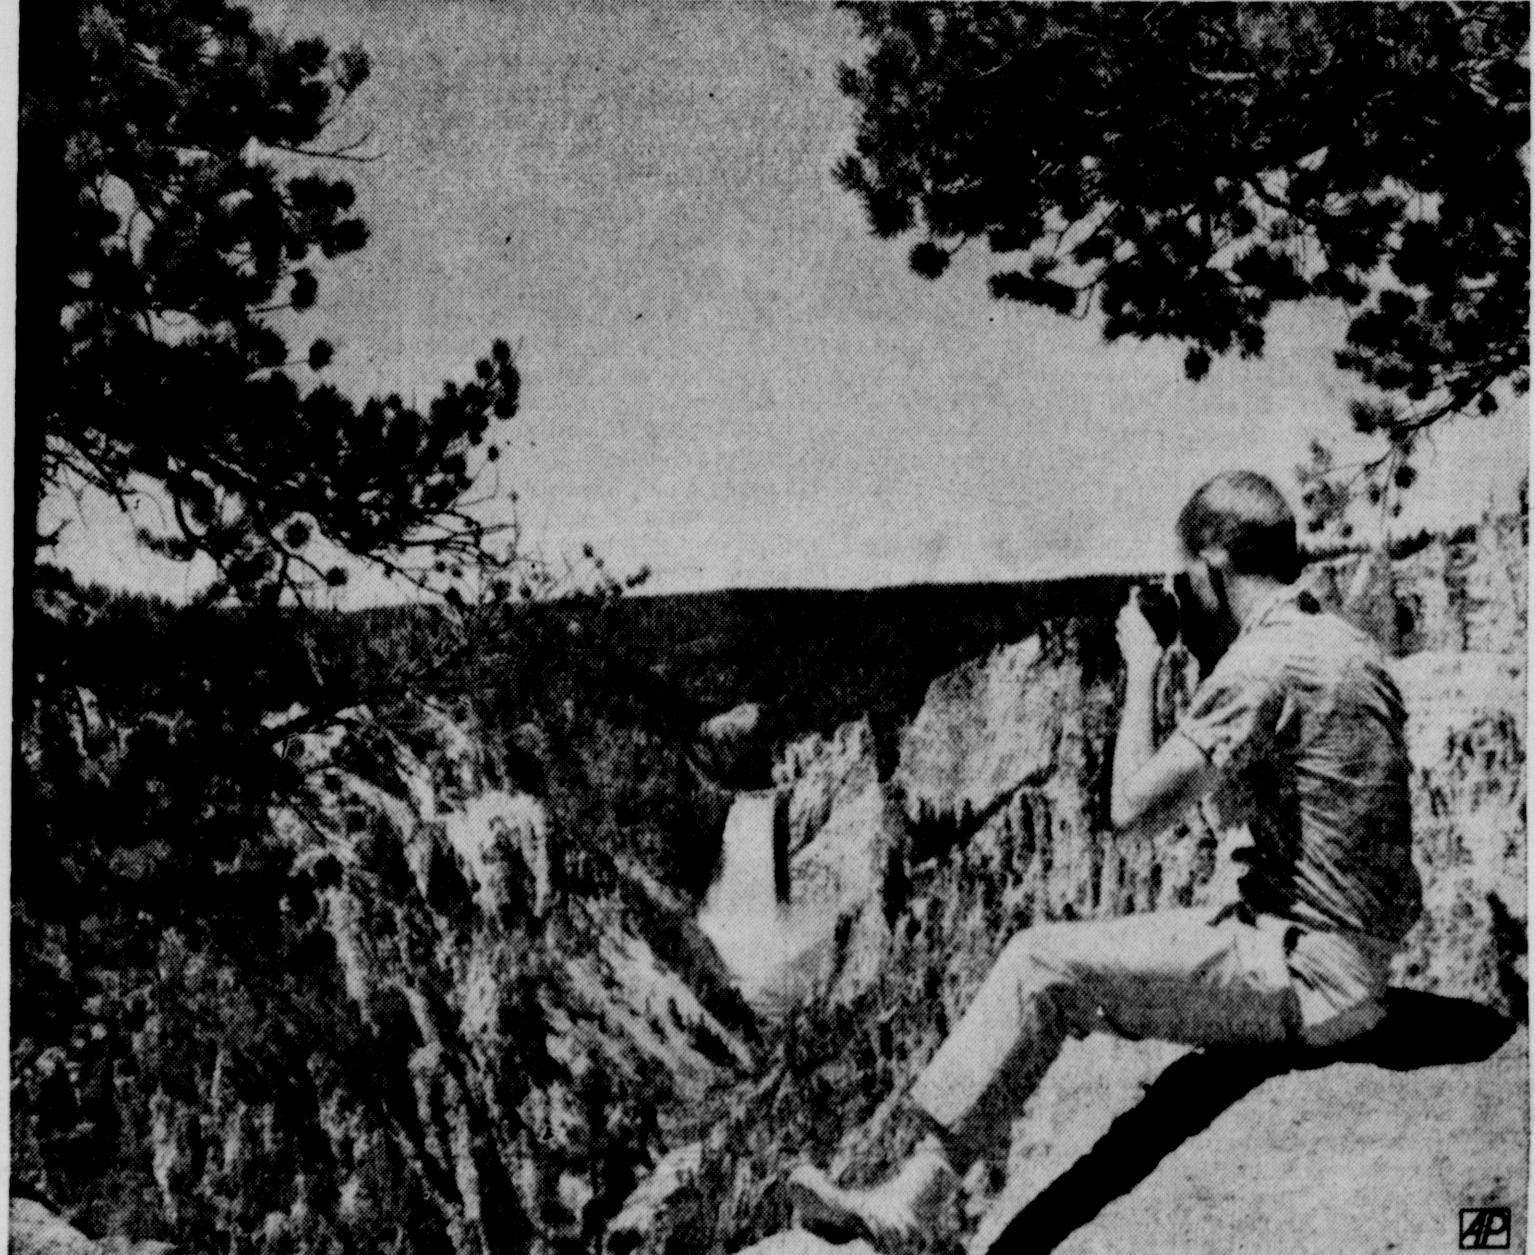

Downey, charged with espionage in 1952, had his sentence commuted from life to five years last December.

Ziegler refused to disclose details of Nixon's discussions about Downey.

Republican Leader Scott, who has one of the country's most extensive private collections of Chinese art, last visited the mainland in 1947.

He met Chou while a U.S. delegate to a meeting of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in New Delhi, India, in 1950.

Scott said the trip couldn't come until Congress is in recess, possibly at the time of the national political conventions this summer.

HAVING A BIRTHDAY — Yellowstone National Park celebrates its 100th anniversary March 1. It was the nation's first national park. Officials expect this year number of visitors to exceed the one and ¼ million who have been exploring the park in recent years. This view is looking toward Yellowstone Falls and Canyon. The Falls is the second most photographed area in the park with Old Faithful geyser getting prime play.

Eight Cited For Truancy In Juvenile Court Cases

Truancy charges were brought against eight students in recent juvenile court sessions, five of whom are students at Circleville.

Youngest were two 13-year-old Orient area girls who were charged with failing to attend classes at Teays Valley Junior High. Both received 5-year probation and one, also cited for incorrigibility, was ordered to enroll in another school district.

A Circleville boy, 14, also charged with being incorrigible and truant, was ordered taken to the Ohio Youth Commission on a temporary basis.

Excessive absence in violation of her probation rules brought a suspended sentence to the Ohio Youth Commission for an Ashville girl, 16, on the condition that she remain in school. Otherwise, the sentence will go into effect.

Two Circleville girls, one 17 and one 16, were placed on probation until they graduate for leaving school without permission and failing to report for class. Sophomores, one boy and a girl cited in separate cases, were placed on probation for a three-year period.

Parking on the highway brought a Route 1, Williamsport youth a $5 fine. Richard S. Stonerock, 16, was picked up by highway patrolmen for parking his auto on Route 316.

Probation was continued for a 16-year-old boy who lives in Circleville. He was found guilty of leaving his home without consent. Judge Guy Cline also ordered the youth to spend one weekend in detention.

Orders were issued for emergency care of the 14-year-old daughter of a Lockbourne Air Force base couple and the 9 and 11-year-old daughters of Circleville parents.

Roger Karr, 16, of 620 Lincoln Ave., was found guilty of a traffic light violation and fined $10. His driving privileges were restricted for 30 days to work and school purposes only.

bated and passed it," Gilligan said.

"At this late point for him (Hatch) to surface for arguments like that and with threats to his own employees is reprehensible in the extreme."

Gilligan's speech was interrupted 27 times with applause, a major portion of it coming from a packed gallery, filled mostly with state employees and their families.

The governor pledged to operate for the remainder of the year without seeking new taxes or general obligation bond issues. Lt. Gov. John Brown said later that Gilligan left a way out. He pointed to a phrase in Gilligan's speech which said: "I firmly believe that we must get our house in order before we think of proposing any new spending of any kind."

The governor, however, left a loophole in his no-new-tax-bond-issue pledge by saying he would not ask for increased taxes "of this General Assembly." The 109th Legislature ends its activities later this year.

Peking Leaders Make Clear Desire For Quiet Period

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
This was Chou En-lai speaking:

"The Chinese people are friendly to the American people and do not want a war with the United States. The Chinese government is willing to sit down and enter into negotiations with the United States to discuss relaxation of tension in the Far East and specifically in the Taiwan area."

The Chinese Communist premier spoke those words 17 years ago.

Recalling them, leaders in other nations of Asia may entertain some nagging misgivings about what went on between Chou and President Nixon.

Back in Washington after his meetings with Chou and Mao Tse-tung, the President reported

ed that he agreed with the Peking leaders on "some rules of international conduct which will reduce the risk of confrontation in Asia and the Pacific."

The two pledged themselves to "conduct their relations on the principles of respect for sovereignty and territorial integrity of all states, nonaggression against other states, noninterference in the internal affairs of other states, equality and mutual benefit and peaceful coexistence."

Those are, word for word, the same "five principles of coexistence" that were much in the news 17 years ago when Chou represented China at an Asian-African conference in Bandung,

Indonesia. Chou was a chief advocate there of the five principles.

Only a short time before the Bandung meeting, Chou had met in India with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. Both endorsed those same "five principles of peaceful coexistence." They also agreed that the United States was a colonialist menace to Asia. That was seven or eight years before China and India went to war over their border dispute. Their relations remain bad to this day.

Chou made his remarks about eagerness for peace with the United States at a time when Red China was weak. It had not recovered from the upheavals that followed the revolution. Also, it had spent much energy and resources at war against the Americans in Korea. It was in a poor situation to invite risks.

Today the Chinese again are in no situation to take risks. They have not recovered from the three violent years of the cultural revolution that turned the party and government structure inside out in a vast purge. That purge has been succeeded by others, the most recent of which struck at the highest levels, toppling Lin Biao, the defense minister and Mao's assigned heir. His fall seemed directly concerned with resistance to the idea of receiving the U.S. president on Chinese soil.

Baby Girl Pulled From Incinerator

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A newborn baby girl was pulled from an incinerator fire at an east side apartment building Tuesday by the building custodian.

The baby, believed to be less than an hour old, suffered burns over 20 per cent of her body and was reported in critical condition at Babies' and Children's Hospital.

It was the second incident in two days involving newborn children.

Homicide Detectives Fred Carter and William Hubbard said the girl was found by a tenant in the building as she was dumping rubbish. Leroy Jackson, 63, the custodian, pulled the baby from the incinerator while the tenant called police.

An infant girl was rescued from a toilet at Roth Elementary School Monday. Police said a 22-year-old unmarried woman who did tutoring work at the school gave birth to the baby in a teachers' lounge, then put it in the toilet.

Teachers found the baby. It was revived by a school nurse. The baby and mother were taken to Forest City Hospital, where officials said the baby appeared normal and healthy.

'Lousy Buses' Brought Strike By Musicians

CINCINNATI (AP) — No spare tires on a bus with a flat plus an ice storm during a tour of the hills of Kentucky were called "the straw that broke the camel's back" in starting a strike by 93 members of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

"Lousy buses without even a spare tire on them and then that ice storm," said Eugene Frey, president of Local One, American Federation of Musicians.

"That put everything into focus. The guys (musicians) were really fed up when they got back after an overnight lay-over near Lexington."

Frey said the tired musicians then had only time for two rehearsals before the concert with Russian cellist Mstislav Rostropovich. "It was lousy," said Frey.

Two Retire From CCA

Container Corporation of America will lose two long-term employees to the retirement roles, effective today. James Scott and Albert Sabine have elected to take early retirement after 38 and 43 years of continuous service respectively.

Scotty spent his early years with Container Corporation at the Carthage, Ind., property and was then transferred to the Circleville Mill as straw yard superintendent. Scotty has been a vital part of the conversion from cereal straw to local hardwood in 1958 and recently he has been receiver of raw materials for the making of paper. Both Mr. and Mrs. Scott plan to spend more time in their lovely gardens and traveling to points of interest.

Albert, like Scotty, has weathered many changes in the Circleville Mill since his employment began 43 years ago. Albert has been a machine tender for the past 32 years and he maintained that job in 1964 when the four older and slower machines were replaced by the single, more sophisticated Fourdrinier. His contribution to the successful operation of the paper machine and the training he has given to the more junior employees cannot be measured. Albert plans to spend time fishing and remodeling older homes.

Woman Hurt In Accident

A Columbus woman was injured in an accident shortly before 7 p.m. Tuesday on Route 23, just north of Route 361.

Margaret Fay Caldwell, 25, was headed south on the highway when a car operated by Leroy J. Silvani, 43, of Sandusky, struck her vehicle in the rear, forcing her auto into the median. Silvani's auto went off the pavement on the right into a culvert and flipped over.

Highway Patrol cited Silvani for failure to keep assured clear distance while driving.

Mrs. Caldwell received minor injuries and was treated at Berger Hospital.

Patrol Reports Month Activities

A Highway Patrol report for February indicated the local post patrolmen made 928 arrests and investigated 72 accidents. There were 37 injuries as a result of those accidents.

There were 16 case investigations made and 46 arrests for drunken driving. Seven hundred twenty-seven motorists were assisted on the highways patrolled by the local group.

Vehicle inspections for February totalled 1,618. Warnings were issued to 1,569 of these motorists.

Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb had a busy day in court Tuesday, but most of the traffic violators were out of county motorists flagged down by the Ohio State Patrol airplane.

Among local motorists fined were: Arthur Lowery, 18, 359 Town St., excessive noise, forfeited $19.

Clovis Parsons, 41, 410 Ray Ave., left of center, forfeited $24 bond.

Dwight Whitten, 35, Duncan-Westfall Road, going 75 in a 60 zone, forfeited a $24 bond.

Henry Clark, 42, 227 N. Court St., going 80 in a 60 zone, forfeited $29 bond.

Gary McCollister, 19, reckless operation, $50 and costs.

Steve Heeter, 31, 121 Walnut St., unsafe vehicle, $10 and costs, wrong license plates $30 and costs.

Herb Dyke, 115 E. Mill St., disorderly conduct, $15 and costs.

Bradley Crosby, Ashville, intoxication, forfeited $24 bond. Halie Koontz, intoxication, forfeited $24 bond.

Robert Bailey, 460 E. Ohio St., intoxication, $25 and costs, petit larceny $100 and costs and 60 days in the Pickaway County Jail.

Peking Leaders Make Clear Desire For Quiet Period

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

This was Chou En-lai speaking.

"The Chinese people are friendly to the American people and do not want a war with the United States. The Chinese government is willing to sit down and enter into negotiations with the United States to discuss relaxation of tension in the Far East and specifically in the Taiwan area."

The Chinese Communist premier spoke those words 17 years ago.

Recalling them, leaders in other nations of Asia may entertain some nagging misgivings about what went on between Chou and President Nixon.

Back in Washington after his meetings with Chou and Mao Tse-tung, the President reported

ed that he agreed with the Peking leaders on "some rules of international conduct which will reduce the risk of confrontation in Asia and the Pacific."

The two pledged themselves to "conduct their relations on the principles of respect for sovereignty and territorial integrity of all states, nonaggression against other states, noninterference in the internal affairs of other states, equality and mutual benefit and peaceful coexistence."

Those are, word for word, the same "five principles of coexistence" that were much in the news 17 years ago when Chou represented China at an Asian-African conference in Bandung,

Indonesia. Chou was a chief advocate there of the five principles.

Only a short time before the Bandung meeting, Chou had met in India with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. Both endorsed those same "five principles of peaceful coexistence." They also agreed that the United States was a colonialist menace to Asia. That was seven or eight years before China and India went to war over their border dispute. Their relations remain bad to this day.

Chou made his remarks about eagerness for peace with the United States at a time when Red China was weak. It had not recovered from the upheavals that followed the revolution. Also, it had spent much energy and resources at war against the Americans in Korea. It was in a poor situation to invite risks.

Today the Chinese again are in no situation to take risks. They have not recovered from the three violent years of the cultural revolution that turned the party and government structure inside out in a vast purge. That purge has been succeeded by others, the most recent of which struck at the highest levels, toppling Lin Biao, the defense minister and Mao's assigned heir. His fall seemed directly concerned with resistance to the idea of receiving the U.S. president on Chinese soil.

Homicide Detectives Fred Carter and William Hubbard said the girl was found by a tenant in the building as she was dumping rubbish. Leroy Jackson, 63, the custodian, pulled the baby from the incinerator while the tenant called police.

An infant girl was rescued from a toilet at Roth Elementary School Monday. Police said a 22-year-old unmarried woman who did tutoring work at the school gave birth to the baby in a teachers' lounge, then put it in the toilet.

Teachers found the baby. It was revived by a school nurse. The baby and mother were taken to Forest City Hospital, where officials said the baby appeared normal and healthy.

'Lousy Buses' Brought Strike By Musicians

CINCINNATI (AP) — No spare tires on a bus with a flat plus an ice storm during a tour of the hills of Kentucky were called "the straw that broke the camel's back" in starting a strike by 93 members of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

"Lousy buses without even a spare tire on them and then that ice storm," said Eugene Frey, president of Local One, American Federation of Musicians.

"That put everything into focus. The guys (musicians) were really fed up when they got back after an overnight layover near Lexington." Frey said the tired musicians then had only time for two rehearsals before the concert with Russian cellist Mstislav Rostropovich. "It was lousy," said Frey.

Services will be 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home in New Holland with Rev. Frank White officiating. Burial will be in Washington C. H. cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 3 p.m. Thursday.

Principal speaker was Rod Petteys, area 4-H agent.

TV Seventh Graders Honored By Ashville Kiwanis Club

Ashville Kiwanis Club was host Tuesday to the Teays Valley seventh grade basketball team. Speaker for the evening was team coach Charles Baxter, who introduced each player and described the team's unbeaten season.

A trophy was awarded to the team for their perfect all-win record.

Other guests at the meeting were Circleville Kiwanian Frank Gans and Ashville advertising representative Dale Butler.

A Board of Directors meeting followed the regular assembly. President Roger Southard sought applicants to attend the Ohio District Kiwanis Bowling Tournament in Canton March 18. Members approved a motion to send a team to the tournament.

Larry Toole was given the go-ahead to work out details for awarding a vocational scholarship to a deserving 1972 Teays Valley graduate.

Fatal River Crash Report Blames 3

WASHINGTON (AP) — Operators of two towboats in an Ohio River collision with a pleasure boat last August have been charged with eight rule violations in a report released Monday by the U.S. Coast Guard.

The operator of the 26-foot cabin cruiser, among seven killed, was also criticized.

The Marine Board of Investigation also called for "early radical changes" in barge lighting systems and the possible licensing of pleasure craft operators through the country as a result of the Aug. 14, 1971, collision.

Investigators blamed the accident on Russell Hundley, 36, of West Chester, Ohio, in the collision with the lead barge of the tow by motor vessels James L. Hamilton and La Salle. The boats were pushing 15 barges upriver. Hundley was going downstream near New Richmond, Ohio.

But the investigators cited Dennis McMahon, of Rock Island, Ill., master of the Hamilton, and Walter Ray Morgan, of Granite City, Ill., on the La Salle, with a total of eight violations of the Western Rivers Rules of the Road.

Among six instances cited as "evidence of violation" by the Hamilton's master were his alleged "failure to sound by whistle signal, failure to immediately signify by sounding the danger signal, failure to maintain a proper lookout, failure to display a green light on the forward starboard side of the tow, while under way at night, for a period of 30 minutes prior to the incident."

The board also said the Hamilton failed to provide screens for side lights of the lead barges and "failed to carry the three tow head lights at approximately the same height above the surface of the water."

While investigators said they had no evidence the La Salle contributed to the cause of the accident, "there is evidence of violation" by its failure to display "central range lights when operating without a tow prior to joining the tow of the Hamilton." They said the La Salle also "failed to display a red port light while pushing another vessel ahead as required."

Hearings were held in two criminal matters today in common pleas court.

Judge William Ammer ordered three years probation for Garry Bennett, Williamsport, after the young man was found guilty of breaking into the Logan Elm bar.

Hearing for Maynard Keaton, who was picked up on a probation violation charge, was continued until counsel can be appointed in his defense. He was originally charged with larceny by trick.

Two Retire From CCA

Container Corporation of America will lose two long-term employees to the retirement roles, effective today. James Scott and Albert Sabine have elected to take early retirement after 38 and 43 years of continuous service respectively.

Scotty spent his early years with Container Corporation at the Carthage, Ind., property and was then transferred to the Circleville Mill as straw yard superintendent. Scotty has been a vital part of the conversion from cereal straw to local hardwood in 1958 and recently he has been receiver of raw materials for the making of paper. Both Mr. and Mrs. Scott plan to spend more time in their lovely gardens and traveling to points of interest.

Albert, like Scotty, has weathered many changes in the Circleville Mill since his employment began 43 years ago. Albert has been a machine tender for the past 32 years and he maintained that job in 1964 when the four older and slower machines were replaced by the single, more sophisticated Fourdrinier. His contribution to the successful operation of the paper machine and the training he has given to the more junior employees cannot be measured. Albert plans to spend time fishing and remodeling older homes.

Woman Hurt In Accident

A Columbus woman was injured in an accident shortly before 7 p.m. Tuesday on Route 23, just north of Route 361.

Margaret Fay Caldwell, 25, was headed south on the highway when a car operated by Leroy J. Silivani, 43, of Sandusky, struck her vehicle in the rear, forcing her auto into the median. Silivani's auto went off the pavement on the right into a culvert and flipped over.

Highway Patrol cited Silivani for failure to keep assured clear distance while driving.

Mrs. Caldwell received minor injuries and was treated at Berger Hospital.

Patrol Reports Month Activities

A Highway Patrol report for February indicated the local post patrolmen made 928 arrests and investigated 72 accidents. There were 37 injuries as a result of those accidents.

There were 16 case investigations made and 46 arrests for drunken driving. Seven hundred twenty-seven motorists were assisted on the highways patrolled by the local group.

Vehicle inspections for February totaled 1,618. Warnings were issued to 1,569 of these motorists.

The Fringe On Top

Fringe benefits, which started as merely embellishment of the pay check have burgeoned to such an extent in the U.S. since the 1940s that they are no longer "fringe," but a substantial part of compensation.

Union negotiators at the bargaining table frequently appear more intent upon increasing adjunctive benefits than in getting more dollars in the pay envelope.

Behind the preoccupation with fringe benefits for union members and management personnel alike is, of course, the desire for more leisure without sacrificing financial security. Also a consideration is tax avoidance. Workers, for instance, prefer that some of their wage increases be in the form of tax-free, company-paid health insurance.

The greatest consideration is the sense of security inherent in the side benefits. If the money which the company set aside for health insurance, for example, were put in the pay envelope, it probably would be spent otherwise.

Unions seem quite satisfied to shift a normally personal responsibility from the worker to the company.

But whether fringe benefit or additional cash, both enter into the cost of production. Ultimately to be paid by the consumer, of course.

Scholastic Fraud

Cribbing on college exams and forging term papers are not new campus activities.

They have existed as long as there have been people who considered a certificate of attainment more important than education. But evidence that the ghost-written term paper has become more popular is the number of firms in business peddling them.

For a price, a student can have a term paper written to specifications on almost any subject. It will be professionally done, it will be typed neatly, and it will probably earn a fairly good grade. But it won't be his.

Faculty members have one sure way of discovering the cheaters. Have the students write a synopsis of their term papers — in class — after the papers have been turned in.

Administrators could help, too, by applying more attention to those peddling their wares on the campus. Academic freedom will survive the banning of term paper deception.

Soviets Take Over Oceans

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

HONOLULU — Admiral John S. McCain Jr., the Commander in Chief of our Pacific operations (including the eastern Indian Ocean), came to Hawaii after a stint in London, where the Middle East was his constant and almost feverish preoccupation. He had watched the Russians move in force into the Mediterranean, where they now have 55 naval units as compared to 25 in 1967.

So, with his double perspective, it is understandable that he begins a briefing not with reference to what he considers the more parochial theater of South Vietnam (he thinks we are winning there, and could only lose to a sudden excess of flower-child diplomacy in Washington), but with the newly explosive Russian "Strategic Island Concept," which is projecting Soviet power all over the Seven Seas.

The blue water concept, of course, was stolen by the Russians from such eminent Western geographers and military theorists as the British Sir Halford Mackinder and the American Admiral Alfred T. Mahan. Being a loyal government spokesman, Admiral McCain couldn't raise the question that is bothering this columnist, who wonders whether the continental German-born Henry Kissinger, an admirer of the Austrian Prince Metternich, is able to appreciate the older policies of the ocean peoples, which stressed keeping the "heartland" power of Russia where, geographically, it must be kept if it is not to disrupt the world.

Kissinger to one side, the admiral was forthright in his description of the Soviet seaborne "leapfrogging" throughout the hemispheres. He pounded it in before he got around to China, which, even as he spoke was dominating all the headlines.

The Suez Canal, McCain said, would be opened in due course, presumably without a war. That may be taken as the prime aim of Muscovite maneuvering, which is both good and bad news for Israel. When the canal is opened, the Russians will have much easier supply connections with their naval units in the Indian Ocean. They now make "almost continuous use of the anchorage off Socotra" (here the admiral pointed to a speck on his chart at the southern entrance to the Red Sea) and they have been helping to build a big port at Visakhapatnam on the East coast of the Indian subcontinent. With Soviet Badger and Bear planes stationed at the renovated Ras Kharma airstrip on Socotra, Russian air power would cover the Persian Gulf and the rich oil sheikdoms).

At this point the admiral abruptly switched to another "Soviet" island, Cuba, from which Russian Bears could reach as far as Seattle and the short-range Badgers as far as Chicago. "We did not win the Cuban missile Crisis," said the Admiral.

The U.S. keeps some 30 of its 41 atomic missile submarines in the Atlantic. The Soviets, who will soon have 58 Polaris-type atomic submarines, can even now spare a hefty naval force for the Pacific, where they have, as Admiral McCain puts it, "over 50 major combatants and more than 100 submarines, many of them missile-equipped." The Pacific naval threat of the Soviets is backed by a Far Eastern "army of a quarter-of-a-million troops; an air force comprised of over 1,000 jet aircraft and a rocket force of hundreds of nuclear-tipped missiles."

In addition, the Soviets have 1,300 merchant ships, 80 percent of which are less than 10 years old. There is the Soviet fishing fleet, which is serviced by a joint Soviet-Spanish company operating off the Canary Islands. When Spain's Franco teams up with the Soviets' Brezhnev, we've had it!

How can a practically landlocked nation sustain such an eruption into the oceans? How are refueling tie-ups managed? Admiral McCain pointed to the giant buoys which the Russians anchor at strategic spots for sea rendezvous purposes. The buoys flaunt a defiant "Property of the USSR," and function as

"strategic islands" in themselves. At one rendezvous off Hawaii a Russian ship dumped oil near our territorial shores. The admiral considered it tragic that most of our "concerned citizens" were more troubled with the ecological damage than with the Soviet "range and mobility and versatility at sea."

"Insidious" is the Admiral's specifically chosen word for the Soviet Strategic Island Concept — which, in a broader sense, includes the hoped-for domination of peninsulars and such key sea-bordered lands as Algeria in North Africa and Chile in South America. Vietnam, to the admiral, is a short-term matter, but the problem presented by the Soviets on the seas stretches on into the illimitable future as a source of potential hot-war trouble.

THURSDAY'S HOROSCOPE
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Startling and surprising conditions could occur in your relationship with other persons. You would be wise to let it be known you are willing to spend considerable time working harmoniously with them in order to make fullest possible use of these unexpected events.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)
An unexpected meeting with an associate could bring either fine or bad results, depending upon how well you handle the situation. A positive reaction works to your benefit.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)
A co-worker has a good idea that should be listened to carefully. It could bring benefits to you later on. A fine time to add to your wardrobe. Be sure what you buy is in good taste.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)
Accept an invitation cheerfully that is extended to you and this can be a most delightful day. Your creative ideas are excellent and you can express them beautifully. Be poised.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)
Situations arise at home that are steppingstones to greater harmony and advancement. Show others that you are a strong and stable person who also has wisdom.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)
You have an opportunity to make more money and get a bill paid you've put aside for a long time. It is wise to shop around for building materials and fix up any real estate you possess.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)
Fascinating ideas pop into your head that should be put into operation without delay since they have been germinating for some time. A group affair can be helpful to you. Avoid gossip.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)
You have an opportunity to show your fine talents to bigwigs today, so stop being so reticent and do just that. A little time spent at improving your appearance is wise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
Do some meditating about what you truly want to accomplish. Know what it is that will please most. You might as well buy it and stop being so stingy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
The best friends to contact now are those who are progressive. A good day to repay a social obligation. Make a good impression. Buy the best quality things you can afford.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
You have excellent ideas, but discuss them with bigwigs before you put them in operation. Civic work can also be most helpful to you and others. A friend can make the evening delightful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
You may receive a fascinating letter today that could bring something interesting into your life. A more progressive outlook will make your life more successful. Be wise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
If you discuss ideas you have with experts, they can help iron out the bugs and all works fine. If you are more charming with mate, you get right results. Wipe away that frown.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those young people with much talent but the ideas are fixed and there's much stubbornness in the nature. Be sure to give the right educational courses that bring about greater understanding. Your progeny requires many playmates of the right kind early in life for best development. A very happy marriage is denoted here. Religion important.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is there any value in taking regular injections of B-12 for energy?

Mr. T. R., M.D.

Dear Mr. R.:

Many people have the confused idea that vitamin B-12 or B-complex, injected into the buttocks, the arms, or even the veins, can give added energy to carry a person through a day's activity.

Actually, taking these vitamins by mouth is probably just as efficacious, and a well-balanced nutritious diet contains far more vitamins than are normally necessary for good health.

I do feel, however, that the psychological advantage of an injection for some people is of great importance.

The "sudden jolt" of an injection seems to give some people the feeling that they have been energized.

It must be emphasized that there are very specific vitamin deficiency diseases which need vitamin B-12 and B-complex by injection for the control of the condition. Some types of anemia are benefited markedly by such injections.

Far too often, patients insist that their daily strength can be acquired only by pressuring their doctors into giving them injections when taking vitamins by mouth is just as effective.

What causes a sudden fluttering sensation of the heart? It comes, and then disappears rapidly. For those few minutes I'm scared to death.

Mrs. G. T., S.D.

Dear Mrs. T.:

The rate and rhythm of the heartbeat are controlled by one of the most delicate and remarkable electrical switches. Sometimes this sensitive mechanism is thrown off balance by tobacco, caffeine, drugs, infections, and emotional stress. Many people describe these momentary sensations by saying "My heart jumps into my neck."

Usually, the steady, uninterrupted regularity of the heartbeat is broken by an extra beat known as "extra systole." All this means is that the heart has taken one or two extra beats in between its normal, regular pattern.

These beats are usually of no medical significance, but they certainly should be investigated to give you reassurance. This is done by electrocardiograms which, in conjunction with a general physical examination, can suggest the proper treatment to eradicate those unpleasant extra beats.

Sun lamps must be used with great care. There is a tendency to fall asleep while using them. An automatic shutoff is an important safety device.

NEW YORK (AP) — There is nothing duller than a man who has achieved his goal.

His life from then on seems curiously empty and inert. He is like a sack that can no longer stand upright. He is drained. The way to fresh horizons and a happy life is to have ambitions you can never really achieve except in daydreams. This keeps you cheerful.

Here are a few goals I'd like to achieve myself — if I weren't kept so busy walking my treadmill in other ways:

Carve a new face on Mt. Rushmore with a screwdriver.

Button my lip.

Find a prerogative and exercise it.

Have a lovely beach maiden in Bali peel me a coconut.

Join a good safe three-wheel

motorcycle club and wear a black leather jacket with a skull and crossbones insignia on the back.

See something that boggles the imagination.

Catch a Mississippi River catfish bigger than the boat I fished from.

Bake a hot cross bun.

Bend an iron bar between my teeth and the ones the dentist sold me.

Trump up an excuse. I can hear it now — trump, trump, trump.

Be sent to jail for starting an earthquake.

Invent a Martini that would evaporate before you could drink it.

Win an argument with a talking horse.

Take a round trip to Mecca

on a flying carpet — first class. Engage someone in a rapier duel at dawn behind the Louvre, preferably someone nearsighted and with very short arms.

Throw an enemy into a bottomless pit and then have a nice long lunch while waiting to hear him splash.

Make not one but five mountains out of a molehill.

Have an hour's conversation with the ghosts of Socrates and Emily Dickinson.

Teach geometry to Cleopatra on a Nile-wafted barge.

Inherit money.

Remember, if a man makes only one of his daydreams come true — particularly that one about inheriting money — his life will not have been lived in vain.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States last year ran up a trade deficit with the rest of the world of $2.9 billion. In some degree it meant that we were out-produced and out-traded, and the shock is having reverberations.

Should the country react to stiffer competition by fighting harder? Or should it protect itself by barricading its markets? Should it work with other nations to build trade, hoping thereby to reverse the trade deficit?

The alternatives sound like something you once read in your history book, but they are very current considerations.

If passed, for example, the Burke-Hartke bill would build barriers to foreign competition in American markets. And at a meeting between U.S. and European businessmen in Versailles, France, this week those alternatives will underlay every discussion.

One of the main reasons why this decision is before the American people especially is that the United States obviously has lost some of its unique advantages in world trade.

At one time American technology and marketing know-how was so superior to that of other nations that it was common to hear Europeans and others talk of American economic domination.

The United States no longer has any corner on technology. In production and marketing it has much to learn from the amazing performance of Japan. And in government-industry cooperation it can learn from a dozen nations.

And while the country faces a new economic world, it must also adjust domestically to factors that seem to be exerting a strong drag on its ability to produce efficiently.

Strikes, the lack of enthusiasm in spending for research and development, the lack of access to training in labor skills, the oligarchic nature of pricing in some areas of the economy have all weakened productivity.

There is the likelihood also that Americans are slightly more inclined to settle for security rather than compete for the dazzling prospect of a higher economic level, which was one of the great lures to productivity.

Inflation, of course, makes American goods less competitive abroad. And since it puts money into the hands of buyers, it tends to make the market for foreign goods more attractive.

Whatever the reasons, the United States must decide again, as it has in the past, which way it is to go: more trade through open markets or less trade because of restricted markets.

The United States still can dangle before any other nation the largest market in the world, one that it shared openly with nations that once were weak but which now are able to care for themselves.

In that respect, the United States is still unique.

The Fringe On Top

Fringe benefits, which started as merely embellishment of the pay check have burgeoned to such an extent in the U.S. since the 1940s that they are no longer "fringe," but a substantial part of compensation.

Union negotiators at the bargaining table frequently appear more intent upon increasing adjunctive benefits than in getting more dollars in the pay envelope.

Behind the preoccupation with fringe benefits for union members and management personnel alike is, of course, the desire for more leisure without sacrificing financial security. Also a consideration is tax avoidance. Workers, for instance, prefer that some of their wage increases be in the form of tax-free, company-paid health insurance.

The greatest consideration is the sense of security inherent in the side benefits. If the money which the company set aside for health insurance, for example, were put in the pay envelope, it probably would be spent otherwise.

Unions seem quite satisfied to shift a normally personal responsibility from the worker to the company.

But whether fringe benefit or additional cash, both enter into the cost of production. Ultimately to be paid by the consumer, of course.

Scholastic Fraud

Cribbing on college exams and forging term papers are not new campus activities.

They have existed as long as there have been people who considered a certificate of attainment more important than education. But evidence that the ghost-written term paper has become more popular is the number of firms in business peddling them.

For a price, a student can have a term paper written to specifications on almost any subject. It will be professionally done, it will be typed neatly, and it will probably earn a fairly good grade. But it won't be his.

Faculty members have one sure way of discovering the cheaters. Have the students write a synopsis of their term papers — in class — after the papers have been turned in.

Administrators could help, too, by applying more attention to those peddling their wares on the campus. Academic freedom will survive the banning of term paper deception.

Soviets Take Over Oceans

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

HONOLULU — Admiral John S. McCain Jr., the Commander in Chief of our Pacific operations (including the eastern Indian Ocean), came to Hawaii after a stint in London, where the Middle East was his constant and almost feverish preoccupation. He had watched the Russians move in force into the Mediterranean, where they now have 50 naval units as compared to 25 in 1967.

So, with his double perspective, it is understandable that he begins a briefing not with reference to what he considers the more parochial theater of South Vietnam (he thinks we are winning there, and could only lose to a sudden excess of flower-child diplomacy in Washington), but with the newly explosive Russian "Strategic Island Concept," which is projecting Soviet power all over the Seven Seas.

The blue water concept, of course, was stolen by the Russians from such eminent Western geographers and military theorists as the British Sir Halford Mackinder and the American Admiral Alfred T. Mahan. Being a loyal government spokesman, Admiral McCain couldn't raise the question that is bothering this columnist, who wonders whether the continental German-born Henry Kissinger, an admirer of the Austrian Prince Metternich, is able to appreciate the older policies of the ocean peoples, which stressed keeping the "heartland" power of Russia where, geographically, it must be kept if it is not to disrupt the world.

Kissinger to one side, the admiral was forthright in his description of the Soviet seaborne "leapfrogging" throughout the hemispheres. He pounded it in before he got around to China, which, even as he spoke was dominating all the headlines.

The Suez Canal, McCain said, would be opened in due course, presumably without a war. That may be taken as the prime aim of Muscovite maneuvering, which is both good and bad news for Israel. When the canal is opened, the Russians will have much easier supply connections with their naval units in the Indian Ocean. They now make "almost continuous use of the anchorage off Socotra" (here the admiral pointed to a speck on his chart at the southern entrance to the Red Sea), and they have been helping to build a big port at Visakhapatnam on the East coast of the Indian subcontinent. With Soviet Badger and Bear planes stationed at the renovated Ras Kharma airstrip on Socotra, Russian air power would cover the Persian Gulf (and the rich oil sheikdoms).

At this point the admiral abruptly switched to another "Soviet" island, Cuba, from which Russian Bears could reach as far as Seattle and the shorter-range Badgers as far as Chicago. "We did not win the Cuban missile Crisis," said the Admiral.

The U.S. keeps some 30 of its 41 atomic missile submarines in the Atlantic. The Soviets, who will soon have 58 Polaris-type atomic submarines, can even now spare a hefty naval force for the Pacific, where they have, as Admiral McCain puts it, "over 50 major combatants and more than 100 submarines, many of them missile-equipped." The Pacific naval threat of the Soviets is backed by a Far Eastern "army of a quarter-of-a-million troops; an air force comprised of over 1,000 jet aircraft and a rocket force of hundreds of nuclear-tipped missiles."

In addition, the Soviets have 1,300 merchant ships, 80 percent of which are less than 10 years old. Then there is the Soviet fishing fleet, which is serviced by a joint Soviet-Spanish company operating off the Canary Islands. When Spain's Franco teams up with the Soviets' Brezhnev, we've had it!

How can a practically landlocked nation sustain such an eruption into the oceans? How are refueling tie-ups managed? Admiral McCain pointed to the giant buoys which the Russians anchor at strategic spots for sea rendezvous purposes. The buoys flaunt a defiant "Property of the USSR," and function as

"strategic islands" in themselves. At one rendezvous off Hawaii a Russian ship dumped oil near our territorial shores. The admiral considered it tragic that most of our "concerned citizens" were more troubled with the ecological damage than with the Soviet "range and mobility and versatility at sea."

"Insidious" is the Admiral's specifically chosen word for the Soviet Strategic Island Concept — which, in a broader sense, includes the hoped-for domination of peninsulas and such key sea-bordered lands as Algeria in North Africa and Chile in South America. Vietnam, to the admiral, is a short-term matter, but the problem presented by the Soviets on the seas stretches on into the illimitable future as a source of potential hot-war trouble.

NEW YORK (AP) — There is nothing duller than a man who has achieved his goal.

His life from then on seems curiously empty and inert. He is like a sack that can no longer stand upright. He is drained.

The way to fresh horizons and a happy life is to have ambitions you can never really achieve except in daydreams. This keeps you cheerful.

Here are a few goals I'd like to achieve myself — if I weren't kept so busy walking my treadmill in other ways:

Carve a new face on Mt. Rushmore with a screwdriver.

Button my lip.

Find a prerogative and exercise it.

Have a lovely beach maiden in Bali peel me a coconut.

Join a good safe three-wheel

motorcycle club and wear a black leather jacket with a skull and crossbones insignia on the back.

See something that boggles the imagination.

Catch a Mississippi River catfish bigger than the boat I fished from.

Bake a hot cross bun.

Bend an iron bar between my teeth and the ones the dentist sold me.

Trump up an excuse. I can hear it now—trump, trump, trump.

Be sent to jail for starting an earthquake.

Invent a Martini that would evaporate before you could drink it.

Win an argument with a talking horse.

Take a round trip to Mecca

on a flying carpet—first class. Engage someone in a rapier duel at dawn behind the Louvre, preferably someone nearsighted and with very short arms.

Throw an enemy into a bottomless pit and then have a nice long lunch while waiting to hear him splash.

Make not one but five mountains out of a molehill.

Have an hour's conversation with the ghosts of Socrates and Emily Dickinson.

Teach geometry to Cleopatra on a Nile-wafted barge.

Inherit money.

Remember, if a man makes only one of his daydreams come true—particularly that one about inheriting money—his life will not have been lived in vain.

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States last year ran up a trade deficit with the rest of the world of $2.9 billion. In some degree it meant that we were out-produced and out-traded, and the shock is having reverberations.

Should the country react to stiffer competition by fighting harder? Or should it protect itself by barricading its markets? Should it work with other nations to build trade, hoping thereby to reverse the trade deficit?

The alternatives sound like something you once read in your history book, but they are very current considerations.

If passed, for example, the Burke-Hartke bill would build barriers to foreign competition in American markets. And at a meeting between U.S. and European businessmen in Versailles, France, this week those alternatives will underlay every discussion.

One of the main reasons why this decision is before the American people especially is that the United States obviously has lost some of its unique advantages in world trade.

At one time American technology and marketing know-how was so superior to that of other nations that it was common to hear Europeans and others talk of American economic domination.

The United States no longer has any corner on technology. In production and marketing it has much to learn from the amazing performance of Japan. And in government-industry cooperation it can learn from a dozen nations.

And while the country faces a new economic world, it must also adjust domestically to factors that seem to be exerting a strong drag on its ability to produce efficiently.

New Car Showroom Blast Said Bomb

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The general contractor for a new car showroom being constructed in Middleburg Heights said an explosion which caused $60,000 damage to the business Monday had to be caused by a bomb.

"It had to be a bomb," said Robert Capretto, the general contractor. "There was nothing else in the showroom area which would cause a blast. There was no fire, just the blast."

In the last 35 years, coyotes have invaded the east, appearing in Canada and at least 13 states from Maine to Florida.

thusiasm in spending for research and development, the lack of access to training in labor skills, the oligarchic nature of pricing in some areas of the economy have all weakened productivity.

There is the likelihood also that Americans are slightly more inclined to settle for security rather than compete for the dazzling prospect of a higher economic level, which was one of the great lures to productivity.

Inflation, of course, makes American goods less competitive abroad. And since it puts money into the hands of buyers, it tends to make the market for foreign goods more attractive.

Whatever the reasons, the United States must decide again, as it has in the past, which way it is to go: more trade through open markets or less trade because of restricted markets.

The United States still can dangle before any other nation the largest market in the world, one that it shared openly with nations that once were weak but which now are able to care for themselves.

In that respect, the United States is still unique.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Carney of Laureville celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary with an open house in the Red School House located next door to the EUB Church in Hallsville.

Russ Merrin of Logan Elm became the 20th winner of the Bob Bowser Memorial trophy, bestowed annually on a county basketball player whose record shows him to be the most outstanding player of that season.

Seven inches of snow blanketed Roundtown, closing all schools in the area except Teays Valley's. Complicating the treacherous driving conditions were the soft berms and threat of rising waters as the Scioto surpassed the flood stage level, reaching a high of 17 feet.

Microfilming of records dating back as far as 1810 in the Pickaway County Recorder's office was completed. The films were stored in a fire proof vault at the First National Bank. Deeds, plats, cemetery records, soldier discharges, mortgages and other legal entries were thus safe-guarded.

David B. Allardyce was welcomed here as rector of St. Philip's Episcopal Church. He replaced William A. Huber who left Circleville to take a position on the Genesee County Mental Health Board in Flint, Mich.

Lack of local funds to finance the building of an airport facility dampened a meeting of committee members and the county commissioners to review site plans and specifications on a proposed site in Washington Twp.

A twin-engined A3D Skywarrior, one of the Navy's largest carrier based jets, crashed one mile south of Robtown, killing all three crew members aboard. The plane went down in a clover field on the Charles Huston farm, one mile south of Route 316 and about 400 yards east of the Turney-Caldwell Road. The crash was the third in Ohio in 11 days and the second crash of military aircraft in Pickaway County.

Melissa Willoughby, a CHS junior, was crowned Miss Ohio DECA during ceremonies at the Neil House in Columbus.

One of Pickaway County's most prominent citizens died on Plantation Key, Fla. at the age of 74. Harry E. Montelius and his wife were vacationing in the Florida Keys when he became ill. His daughter Ruth had just returned to Ohio from a visit with them. Montelius was descended from one of the first family of settlers in this area and owned Pioneer Acres in Pickaway Twp., a historical landmark.

Philip Enoch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Enoch, Route 1, a producer-director of documentary films for KSD-TV in St. Louis, was awarded the regional Emmy Award. Enoch received the award for the film, "The Lengthening Shadow," an hour-long color film on infant mortality. The Pickaway County native was a 1950 graduate of Salter Creek High and graduate of Ohio University.

Circleville Man Promoted

TOM SHEA

At the recent Annual Meeting of Main Federal Savings and Loan Association in Columbus, Wilbur H. Morrison, president, announced the promotion of Thomas L. Shea to the position of vice president and controller.

Shea, who has been with Main Federal since 1955, is active in the National Society of Controllers and Financial Officers of Savings Institutions.

For the past two years, he has served as a panel member on the National Committee on Computer Operations Service Bureau.

He is a Past Grand Knight, Circleville Council Knights of Columbus, and is presently serving as District Warden of District 5 for that organization. Shea graduated in Business Administration from Tusculum College in Greeneville, Tennessee, and from the American Savings and Loan Institute.

In 1943, he was All South Central Ohio fullback at Circleville High School, and in 1971 his son Thomas J. was named to the same honor at the same high school. Shea lives with his wife and three children at 355 Meadow Lane in Circleville.

Camping Is Valuable Part Of Total 4-H Program

Camping is as old as the human race. To the Indian or to the pioneer, camping meant primitive living under the open sky. To the camper of today, camping means simplified living. Our group camping offers a simplified situation for learning.

"A creative, educational experience in cooperative group living in the out-of-doors."

Each summer parents show their belief in the value of 4-H camping by sending nearly 17,000 Ohio youngsters to 4-H camps. Throughout the years, camping has been an effective teaching tool for 4-H club boys and girls.

Boys and girls gain a new dimension to their lives in cooperative group living in the out-of-doors through camping. This experience complements and supplements the local club program and the individual 4-H projects.

Camp is a place — the green woods, the swimming pool, the campfire, the dining lodge, the bird calls, the running stream — this is camp.

Camp is a program — the citizenship, the nature appreciation, the social development, the art of healthful living, the leadership skills — this is camp.

Camp is what happens to campers — the memories, the new purposes to their lives, the improved or newly acquired skills, the friendship, the appreciations — this is camp.

Camp is you — you help make camp by the philosophy you have of camp and develop with other campers.

What the boy and girl takes home is really what camp is.

Several will use the skills learned at camp many times throughout their lives; others not as often. Of most importance is that doing things at camp gives 4-H members a sense of accomplishment and self-reliance.

The primary aim of 4-H and other Extension work with youth is to provide opportunity for the mental, physical, social and spiritual growth of young people. Informal education offered by the Cooperative Extension Service uniquely supplements the training received in the home, church, school and other youth serving agencies. Specifically, the Extension youth program has the purpose of helping young people to achieve National 4-H objectives. 4-H camp is an activity that relates to and contributes to National 4-H objectives.

4-H camping objectives are:

1. To have recreational and educational experiences in outdoor living away from home.

2. To meet and learn to get along with other young people through committee work, program planning and living together, as well as through program activities such as crafts and games.

3. To learn to take responsibility for their own decisions and action without family protection.

4. To enrich the club program and the camper's background by exploring new interests, or new angles of old interests, such as nature, music and water-front activities that cannot be as well provided through local clubs.

5. To discover and provide opportunities for developing leadership abilities as well as for intelligent followership.

6. To discover special talent and capabilities among campers and counselors for future use in other phases of the club program.

7. To learn to meet individual and group responsibilities.

8. To be inspired to practice better 4-H club membership.

There were 26 farmer guests at the meeting to celebrate "Farmer's Night." The Rev. Fred Mercer of the Circleville

Church of God and president of the Pickaway County Ministerial Association, presented the weekly Lenten devotion. Other guests at the meeting included Gerald Ayers, district chairman for the Boy Scouts and five Eagle Scouts, Tom Spring, Tom Hamilton, Kirk Knoch, Wyatt Fraas and Jim Akison.

State Patrol Files Charges At McArthur

MCARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Highway Patrol filed two counts of vehicular homicide and one of reckless operation Tuesday against James Ousley, 34, of Wellston.

The charges stem from a collision Saturday of Ousley's car with another on Ohio 683 which killed Carl Seymours, 62, and his nephew, Clarence Seymours, 27, both of McArthur.

Insurance Agents Schedule Meeting

The Pickaway County Insurance Agents Assn. will hold its regular monthly business meeting 6:30 p.m. Thursday at Pickaway Arms.

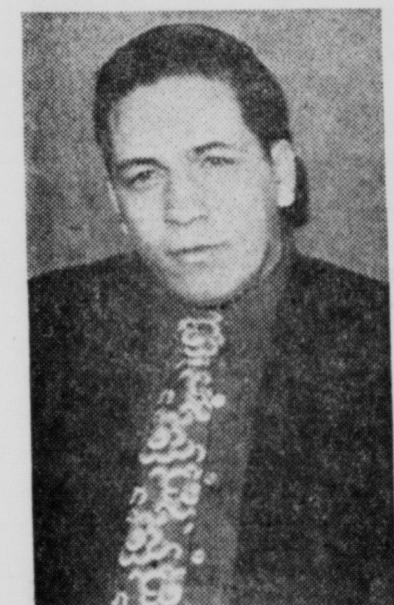

Frank Loehner Jr., trustee of District One, Ohio Assn. of Insurance Agents Inc., will be the speaker. Loehner is affiliated with Atkinson-Dauksch Agencies, Inc. Columbus.

4 Men Promoted By Police

FRANCIS SMALLWOOD

Four men have been promoted by the City Police Department, according to Chief Robert Temple.

Francis Smallwood has been appointed sergeant of the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. night shift. Ray Dulin has been hired as a patrolman for that shift. Ron Smith, working as a provisional patrolman for over a year, was appointed to regular patrolman. Jack Mills, will be on plain clothes juvenile detail, when the department reaches full strength.

Smallwood joined the force three and a half years ago after working at Owens-Illinois and serving a two year hitch in the Army as a communications sergeant.

He received his appointment to sergeant of the night shift after scoring highest for the job in the recent Civil Service testing.

SMALLWOOD, who will still drive a car on the shift, will be in charge of five other men. He and his wife Donna and two children Jerry and Angela live at 935 1/2 S. Washington St.

Ray Dulin, a 26-year-old Texan, is the first new man in 1972 to be hired by the city as a police patrolman, thanks to the just-completed civil service testing.

Dulin, who lives in Ashville with his wife, the former Susan Adkins, and 13-month-old son, will be working the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. night shift starting Wednesday.

He enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1966 and was discharged in 1970. During his tenure, he served 18 months with the Air Security wing of the Military Police.

He worked at Container Corporation of America prior to his appointment.

Ferguson Report On Tickets Awaited

CINCINNATI (AP) — City officials awaited a report from the office of Ohio State Auditor Joseph Ferguson today on an investigation of traffic tickets here over the past four years.

Ferguson said Tuesday the report would be turned over "as soon as possible." The investigation was launched after The Cincinnati Enquirer disclosed that 6,000 tickets had been quashed by police in 1970.

Orientation Program Held For Volunteers

Fourteen Pickaway County Red Cross volunteers participated in an orientation program conducted by Mrs. Joan Mercier, administrative assistant to the chairman of volunteers of the Franklin County Red Cross Chapter.

Mrs. Mercier, staff consultant in the Columbus Division which serves Pickaway and other counties, presented the history and purposes of the Red Cross, showed a slide series depicting the range of Red Cross volunteer services and explained all the skills needed by volunteers on the Bloodmobile.

Attending the orientation were: Margie Delong, Sharon Middaugh, Mary Wellington, Blanche Kerns, Betty Trecker, Norma Lockbaum, Donna Blanton, Judie Hinton, Caroline Champion, Grace Swank, Sally Jones, Judith Peters, Amelia Wardell and Galena Ivaseu.

Laurelville FFAer First In District

Albert Binkley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Binkley, Laurelville, representing the Laurelville FFA Chapter, placed first in the District 14 FFA Outdoor Recreation Contest.

By winning this award, Albert has shown outstanding leadership and work abilities in the area of Outdoor Recreation.

Albert will not represent Laurelville and District 14 (27 FFA Chapters) in the state contest.

Mrs. Dallas Hinkle, president, presided over the Monday evening business session when Unit 134 American Legion Auxiliary met in the Post Home. Mrs. Robert Stephens, chaplain, opened the meeting with prayer. Donations were made to the Heart Fund, Valley Forge Freedom Foundation and the Yanks Who Gave.

Mrs. Bess Simson, veteran affairs and rehabilitation chairman told of the very pleasant February visit to the Veterans Hospital, Chillicothe.

Cherry pie, ice cream, cheese curls and punch were served to 28 veterans. Games and visiting completed the event.

Mrs. Roseann Stinson, child welfare, reported clothing assistance to families who lost their possessions through fire in their homes. Plans to assist the Post with its annual children's Easter party were discussed.

Mrs. Forrest Hoffman, Americanism, reported activities concerning Buckeye Girls State and further news will be released at a later date. Mrs. Hall read communications from Mrs. Charles Oney, 7 District president, stating the district was in first place in membership in the state. Mrs. Donald Miller, Department of Ohio membership chairman sent congratulations to the local unit for reaching their quota.

Mrs. Hinkle announced the Memorial Poppies had arrived from the Soldiers and Sailors Home, Sandusky where they are made by the disabled veterans during the winter months.

The chaplain closed the meeting with a prayer for peace. Mrs. Stephens invited the members to the refreshment table.

LONDON (AP) — Beatle George Harrison and his wife Pattie have been injured in an auto accident.

Their car struck a barrier dividing a superhighway near London Monday night during a power blackout that doused the highway lighting system.

Elizabeth Ashley Given Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Ashley and actor George Peppard have divorced after six years of marriage, declaring their differences are "absolutely unresolvable."

Their romance made news in 1965 when Miss Ashley, the toast of Broadway in "Barefoot in the Park," paid $30,000 to buy out of the show and follow Peppard to Hollywood.

Council Of Church Women Sets World Day Of Prayer

The annual World Day of Prayer service in Circleville will be held Friday, March 3 at 1:30 p.m. in Calvary United Methodist Church, corner of E. Mill and S. Washington Sts.

The theme of the service this year is "All Joy Be Yours! The speaker will be Thomas Mathew, a senior at Circleville Bible College. Mr. Mathew is a graduate of Christian College in India, having BS and MS degrees in psychology before coming to the Bible college to study theology. Upon graduation he hopes to return to his home in India and serve his people there in a Christian Clinic.

The theme takes special note of the crises throughout the world as experienced by problems of migration, relationships between young and old, and secularization. These three subjects were proposed by European women, concluding that all life includes privation and suffering as well as happiness, when we are able to accept the Christian pattern of living.

The offering taken will go to the Intercontinental Mission which spreads funds for mission work over six continents. This year the work will be concentrated especially among agricultural migrants and farm workers and the thousands of refugees and displaced persons, primarily in Pakistan, and in the work of rehabilitation in war torn countries.

The service is being sponsored by the Circleville Council of Church Women. Mrs. Russell Archer, president. The women of Calvary will have a nursery available for those with small children. All area residents are urged to attend, men as well as women.

Pink Proves Top Color In Fashion

NEW YORK (AP) — While many designers are indulging in bright plaids or natty beiges, designer Arnold Scaasi likes "all the pretty colors"—especially pink.

"It's the most flattering color," Scaasi said Tuesday, relaxing after a spring-summer showing of his made-to-order line, priced $850 to $1,500.

His dresses have names such as "pink frosting" and "pink thistle." They may have ruffles at the throat and the waist—and white-on-pink lace.

He uses geranium pink for a wool pants suit with a white halter top.

Pink ostrich feathers are snuggled with black ones on the skirt of a short cocktail dress with black bodice.

Open a white coat and find a pink and black rainbow print. Count the pink flowers on a fluffy white floral print evening dress.

Pair a pink plaid coat with matching A-line dress. Scaasi also likes dots—and confetti prints with millions of multicolored sprinkles tossed over a blouse or black evening dress.

Block Vote Plan May Bring Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio McCarthy for President Committee says it will file a lawsuit if the legislature passes a bill allowing a slate vote instead of a direct vote for individual convention delegates in the May 2 primary.

Secretary of State Ted Brown is seeking the legislation to save the estimated $2 million it would cost to use paper ballots instead of voting machines. The heavy Democratic presidential delegate ballot.

Audrey Rood of Columbus, coordinator for McCarthy's Ohio campaign, said the measure would be challenged in court if enacted by the legislature.

Ashbrook Opposes Amnesty Proposals

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio, says he finds the proposal to grant amnesty to persons who have avoided the draft by fleeing the country "repugnant and against the very concept of equality under the law."

"I have spoken out many times against granting blanket amnesty for those misguided, miscounseled youth who, rather than face their military responsibilities, fled their homes, families and country," he said.

Sorority Unit Views Slides Of Hawaii

Susan Neal, Route 1, Ashville, was hostess recently for the social meeting of Beta Kappa Chapter of Sigma Phi Gamma International Sorority.

Linda Warner, one of the members, showed slides of her tour of Hawaii this past summer.

Plans were made to attend the annual Province meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess to Shirley Chalfin, Beverly Seymour, Linda Warner, Janice Seymour, Dixie Kidwell, Mary Ellen Pettibone and Marlene Pritchard.

The 45th Annual Gamma Province meeting was held Saturday and Sunday at Ohio University Inn, Athens, with Alpha Tau Chapter as host.

Delegates attending from Beta Kappa Chapter of Circleville were Linda Warner and Janice Seymour.

Beta Kappa Chapter will be host for the event in February 1973.

Also present for the business meeting, installation of new Province officers, and the luncheon on Sunday were Hannelore Parks, Susan Neal, Eleanor Strawser, Shirley Chalfin, Ruth Ann Strawser, and Marlene Pritchard.

The next meeting of the chapter will be Wednesday night March 8th at 8 p.m. in the home of Marlene Pritchard, Dunkle Rd., Circleville.

WEAR-EVER BOUNTY IS FOR YOU

BOUNTY is dependable. The Alcoa aluminum used in its construction provides even heat distribution and control. Teflon II coating inside and thick porcelain coating outside offers quick — easy clean-up.

BOUNTY is easy to handle. All pieces are designed and engineered to give precision balance. The handles are tapered to fit your fingers. Handles are heat-resistant, with wraparound flame guards and hang-up features.

BOUNTY is lovely to look at. Genuine porcelain coating on aluminum makes it as decorative as fine china. The colors blend beautifully with today's kitchen schemes. Ebony colored handles and knobs provide sharp accents.

Economize But Don't Apologize!

Finding ways to stretch the food budget is of constant concern of today's home-maker. Since the meat-protein group accounts for the largest percentage of money spent for food, this is the group for which you must do the most planning. Economical cuts of meat, fish, egg dishes and recipes using beans, peas or lentils provide as good a source of protein as the more expensive cuts of meat. When prepared with a little thought and imagination, these economical protein sources make gourmet dishes worthy of gracing any company table. For instance, chuck steak, (on sale this week at Big Bear) cut 1 1/2 to 2 inches thick is delicious broiled, if you use a meat tenderizer and marinate the steak in the refrigerator overnight in a wine marinade or Italian salad dressing. Marinades may be used over and over — so the cost of their use is very low. Creamed eggs may be combined with left-over bits of meat, or cheese, green onions or peppers, mushrooms or wine, and become elegant entrees when served over toast points or English muffins, garnished with fresh parsley. And don't apologize when you serve your youngsters peanut butter sandwiches. Peanut butter is an excellent source of protein. For snacks, try spreading it on apple slices, sticks of celery or toasted raisin bread. Try viewing economizing as a challenge not a chore — you'll be surprised how an attitude change can make a difference in the enjoyment you can get from meal planning.

Mustang Country

WHS Teens Entrants In Competition

Experienced members of the music department traveled to the Ohio State University for the Solo and Ensemble Contest on Feb. 26. Contest is held for high school students to display their musical talents. Ratings are given, determining the quality of the performance.

Mark Hosler, senior, played a difficult cornet solo, "Concerto," composed by Joseph Hady. Dianna Snyder, junior, delighted everyone with an E-flat clarinet solo, "Arietta and Scherzo." A superb voice solo was done by senior Vicki Stoer. Her solo was entitled "When I Am Laid In Earth." Stephanie Garland, senior, played a piano solo composed by Beethoven.

Five band members harmonized together in a brass quintet entitled "Sonata No. 2." Players included Mark Hosler and Karen Fausnaugh on cornet, John Myers on French horn, Judy Schein on baritone, and Randy Smith on tuba.

A clarinet quartet, "Episodes," was performed by Marilyn Keller, Chris Hansen, Cheryl Miller, and Becki Easterday.

Jeff Skinner, Karen Fausnaugh, Kathy Logan, and Terry Newlon displayed their talent by presenting "Scherzino," a cornet quartet. A percussion ensemble also entitled "Scherzino" was performed by Barb Justus, Tanis Galloway, Kelly Steinhauer, Rick Metzger.

Mr. James Kibby, band director, assisted each soloist and ensemble group in preparing for contest. Those who listened to the performances agree that all the hard work put into the pieces proved successful.

Student Returns Here

CATHY LEMASTER

This week Mustang Country would like to welcome Cathy Lemaster to Westfall High School. Cathy, age 16, lives near Williamsport with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lemaster. She has two sisters and three brothers.

Cathy is not new to the Westfall District. She moved to New Orleans, La. the summer after her seventh grade year here. In Louisiana she attended L. W. Higgins High School. She seems to like Westfall better than her old school because Higgins was an all-girl school which operated on a split session.

Cathy says that while she is here at WHS, she would especially like to go in GAA because she is interested in sports. She also lists Alice Cooper, "Southern Man" by Neil Young, writing notes, and eating as her likes. She dislikes snobby people.

Cathy is enrolled in business courses.

Future Nurses Hear Speaker

Future Nurses of America held a meeting Feb. 16 at Westfall High School.

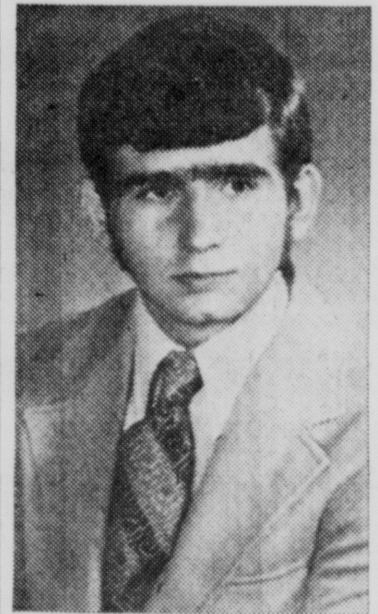

After a short business discussion, Mrs. Jackie Neff introduced the guest speaker, Diane Burger, a licensed physical therapist. Her program consisted of college requirements for girls going into the nursing field and stories of her personal experiences. She also read several poems by Rod McKuen. At the conclusion, Mrs. Burger passed out information concerning schools of physical therapy throughout the United States and Puerto Rico.

Everyone agreed that the program was tremendous. The club presented Mrs. Burger with a gift at the close of the meeting.

WHS Seniors Are Named For Award

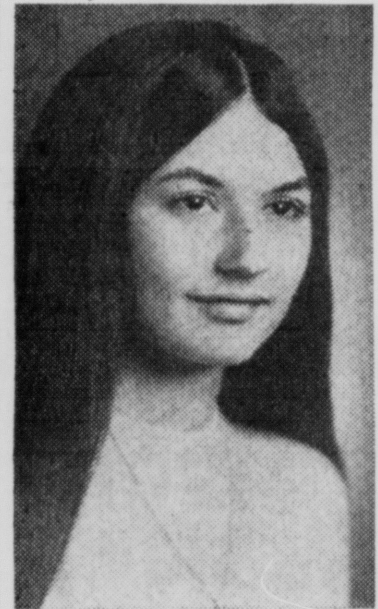

Four Westfall High School students have been selected as Outstanding Teenagers of America for 1972. Selection for the Outstanding Teenagers award program automatically qualifies these students for further state, regional and national honors and scholarships totaling $7,000.

Westfall nominees are Cheryl Ann Miller, Elizabeth Elaine Clark, Charles Kennedy and Harvey Philip Karn. Nominated by their principal, Mr. Roger Beck, the Outstanding Teenagers of America are chosen from individual schools across the country for excellence in the community. State winners are selected by the Outstanding Teenager Awards Selection Committee in cooperation with the Board of Advisers.

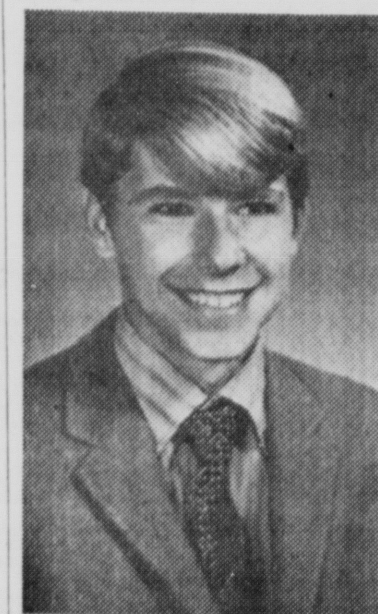

ELAINE CLARK

Phil Karn is president of the Science Club and National Honor Society and serves as vice president of the senior class. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Karn, Route 2, Orient, he is also treasurer of the Darby Fine and Dandy 4-H Club and a member of the Junior Leader Club. He plans to attend Purdue University in the fall to study animal science.

CHERYL MILLER

Cheryl Miller, in addition to many school activities, is Miss Teenage Mustang and 1971-72 Miss Pumpkin Show. The organizations at Westfall which she is involved in include: WHS chorus and junior-senior ensemble, Art Club, annual staff-senior editor, Mustang Country, Echo staff, French Club, concert band, marching band majorette, pep band, GAA, National Honor Society, FTA, and drama club. Her 4-H work includes being a 4-H junior leader, 4-H junior fair board, Deercreek Busy Bees and county 4-H band.

CHUCK KENNEDY

Chuck Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy, Route 1, Orient, is student council president. The 17-year-old has been accepted at Xavier University and plans to study math and physical education. He is senior class president, FTA vice president and a member of the Varsity "W" and Drama Club. He finished second in the county in geometry, first in biology, tied for third in Algebra II and another third place tie in chemistry.

Elaine Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Francis

Clark of Williamsport. She is a member of Drama Club, Ski Club, Art Club, National Honor Society and French Club. She has served as vice president and treasurer of FTA, editor of Mustang Country news and

ELAINE CLARK

Echo Staff. In 4-H work, she has been a member of Deercreek Busy Bees for eight years and belongs to the Deercreek Livestock Club and Junior Leaders. A worker for the cancer and heart funds, she is president of the UMYF at church. She was a Buckeye Girls State delegate and was included in both the 1971 and 1972 Who's Who in American High Schools. After graduation

Elaine plans to study accounting. The 50 state winners will be eligible for awards totaling $7,000. One boy and one girl will be chosen for national scholarships of $1,000 each to be used at the college or university of their choice. Ten regional winners will also be selected from the remaining state winners to receive $500 regional scholarships.

FTA Planning Student Teach Day

On March 8, the Future Teachers of America are planning a student teaching day at the elementary and junior high schools. Those schools involved include Jackson Elementary School, Monroe Elementary and Junior High School, Westfall Junior High School, and Darby Elementary School.

Students have been working hard to make this day possible. Guidelines have been set to make the day a success.

First, students must have paid their dues in order to participate, and, they must have attended a certain percentage of the meetings that have been scheduled this year.

Students are being urged to notify the teachers they intend to help well in advance so they can plan what they would like to do. This will aid the student and teacher as both will have a chance to get acquainted and find out what each would like to accomplish on the teaching day.

Future Homemakers of America are busy planning their Spring Style Show.

Future Farmers of America are planning their annual banquet March 16 with the State FFA Sentinel being the guest speaker.

Pep Club is electing new officers for next year, so they can get off to a good start next fall.

Mustang Country Staffers Make Four Senior Selections

SPOTLIGHT — Four more soon-to-graduate students at Westfall have been chosen as featured seniors of the week

Mustang Country staffers have selected four more seniors for this week's spotlight.

Barb Justus, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean W. Justus of Route 3, Circleville.

Barb is currently serving as treasurer of FTA. She is also a member of GAA, French Club, and concert and marching band.

Her likes include music, rolling houses, and helping others. Her main interest is teaching elementary school because she likes working with young children.

Barb's studies are a combination of college prep. and business courses. She plans to attend Ohio University branch in Lancaster and major in elementary education.

Barb Yerian, 18, is the daughter of Oscar and Kathryn List of Route 2, Circleville.

Barb, a senior, is also known as "Berb" or "Bob". She is an active member of 4-H and also vice-president of the student body because she has a special interest in helping students and changing a few views.

"Berb" likes sledding parties, meeting new and interesting people and seeing new sights. She dislikes hairy little creatures. Enrolled in the business course of study, she hopes to get a job following

WHS Teens Entrants In Competition

Experienced members of the music department traveled to the Ohio State University for the Solo and Ensemble Contest on Feb. 26. Contest is held for high school students to display their musical talents. Ratings are given, determining the quality of the performance.

Mark Hosler, senior, played a difficult cornet solo, "Concerto," composed by Joseph Hadyn. Dianna Snyder, junior, delighted everyone with an E-flat clarinet solo, "Arietta and Scherzo." A superb voice solo was done by senior Vicki Stoer. Her solo was entitled "When I Am Laid In Earth." Stephanie Garland, senior, played a piano solo composed by Beethoven.

Five band members harmonized together in a brass quintet entitled "Sonata No. 2." Players included Mark Hosler and Karen Fausnaugh on cornet, John Myers on French horn, Judy Schein on baritone, and Randy Smith on tuba.

A clarinet quartet, "Episodes," was performed by Marilyn Keller, Chris Hansen, Cheryl Miller, and Becki Easterday.

Jeff Skinner, Karen Fausnaugh, Kathy Logan, and Terry Newlon displayed their talent by presenting "Scherzino," a cornet quartet. A percussion ensemble also entitled "Scherzino" was performed by Barb Justus, Tanis Galloway, Kelly Steinhauer, Rick Metzger.

Mr. James Kibby, band director, assisted each soloist and ensemble group in preparing for contest. Those who listened to the performances agree that all the hard work put into the pieces proved successful.

Student Returns Here

CATHY LEMASTER

This week Mustang Country would like to welcome Cathy Lemaster to Westfall High School. Cathy, age 16, lives near Williamsport with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lemaster. She has two sisters and three brothers.

Cathy is not new to the Westfall District. She moved to New Orleans, La. the summer after her seventh grade year here. In Louisiana she attended L. W. Higgins High School. She seems to like Westfall better than her old school because Higgins was an all-girl school which operated on a split session.

Cathy says that while she is here at WHS, she would especially like to go in GAA because she is interested in sports. She also lists Alice Cooper, "Southern Man" by Neil Young, writing notes, and eating as her likes. She dislikes snobby people.

Cathy is enrolled in business courses.

Future Nurses Hear Speaker

Future Nurses of America held a meeting Feb. 16 at Westfall High School.

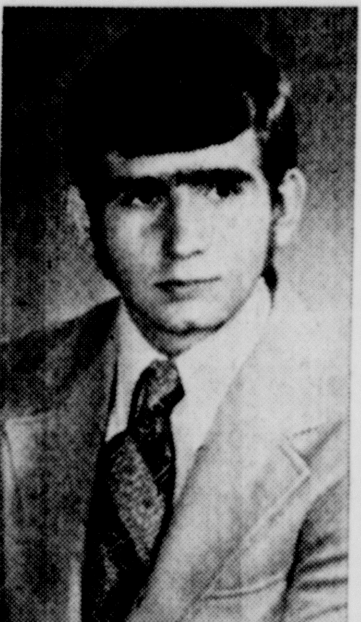

After a short business discussion, Mrs. Jackie Neff introduced the guest speaker, Diane Burger, a licensed physical therapist. Her program consisted of college requirements for girls going into the nursing field and stories of her personal experiences. She also read several poems by Rod McKuen. At the conclusion, Mrs. Burger passed out information concerning schools of physical therapy throughout the United States and Puerto Rico.

Everyone agreed that the program was tremendous. The club presented Mrs. Burger with a gift at the close of the meeting.

WHS Seniors Are Named For Award

Four Westfall High School students have been selected as Outstanding Teenagers of America for 1972. Selection for the Outstanding Teenagers award program automatically qualifies these students for further state, regional and national honors and scholarships totaling $7,000.

Westfall nominees are Cheryl Ann Miller, Elizabeth Elaine Clark, Charles Kennedy and Harvey Philip Karn. Nominated by their principal, Mr. Roger Beck, the Outstanding Teenagers of America are chosen from individual schools across the country for excellence in the community. State winners are selected by the Outstanding Teenager Awards Selection Committee in cooperation with the Board of Advisers.

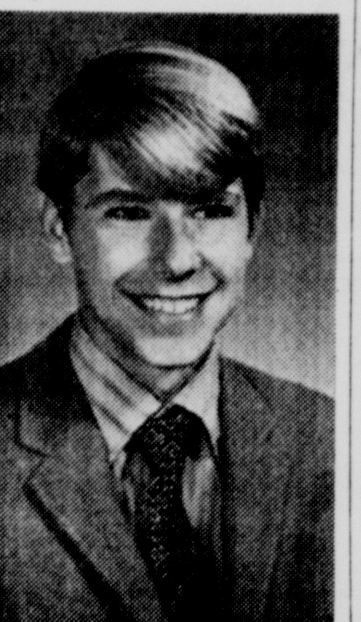

PHIL KARR

Phil Karr is president of the Science Club and National Honor Society and serves as vice president of the senior class. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Karr, Route 2, Orient, he is also treasurer of the Darby Fine and Dandy 4-H Club and a member of the Junior Leader Club. He plans to attend Purdue University in the fall to study animal science.

CHERYL MILLER

Cheryl Miller, in addition to many school activities, is Miss Teenage Mustang and 1971-72 Miss Pumpkin Show. The organizations at Westfall which she is involved in include: WHS chorus and junior-senior ensemble, Art Club, annual staff-senior editor, Mustang Country, Echo staff, French Club, concert band, marching band majorette, pep band, GAA, National Honor Society, FTA, and drama club. Her 4-H work includes being a 4-H junior leader, 4-H junior fair board, Deercreek Busy Bees and county 4-H band.

CHUCK KENNEDY

Chuck Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy, Route 1, Orient, is student council president. The 17-year-old has been accepted at Xavier University and plans to study math and physical education. He is senior class president, PTA vice president and a member of the Varsity "W" and Drama Club. He finished second in the county in geometry, first in biology, tied for third in Algebra II and another third place tie in chemistry.

Elaine Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Francis

Clark of Williamsport. She is a member of Drama Club, Ski Club, Art Club, National Honor Society and French Club. She has served as vice president and treasurer of FFA, editor of Mustang Country news and

ELAINE CLARK

Echo Staff. In 4-H work, she has been a member of Deercreek Busy Bees for eight years and belongs to the Deercreek Livestock Club and Junior Leaders. A worker for the cancer and heart funds, she is president of the UMYF at church. She was a Buckeye Girls State delegate and was included in both the 1971 and 1972 Who's Who in American High Schools. 'Rubberneck' Is Selected Class Play

Rubberneck for mayor!!?
Once again the Wilkins family is faced with a crisis that arrives every two years. Uncle Elwyn is running for mayor as he has for the last 14 years. You would think he would become discouraged after having lost the election on seven consecutive occasions, but nothing seems to discourage him.

But alas, Father Wilkins has no enthusiasm whatsoever and refuses to have the home used as campaign headquarters. This unfortunately crushes the plans of Uncle Elwyn as well as those of Mayor Crawford who warns the Wilkins family of dire consequences if Uncle Elwyn is not in the running.

Immediately the entire family unites to run a stuffed dummy named "Rubberneck" for mayor. Be sure not to miss this comedy in three acts to be re-enacted late in March.

Results of the try-outs were recently posted. Students receiving parts were: Sandy Peart, who will play as Bobbie Wilkins, Judy Schein as Mother Wilkins, Cheryl Miller as Aunt Roberta Ford, Becky Beauman as Melanie Wilkins, Bonnie Bailey as Wendy Crawford, Bev Lance as Miss Greer, Mike Puckett as Father Wilkins.

Bob Schobert as Uncle Elwyn Buford, Russ Carson as Arnold Gormeyer, Chuck Kennedy as the illustrious Mayor Crawford, and Rodger Spradlin as Philip Frobuscher. Makk Stubbs will play a double role as cab driver and photographer. Student directors for the play are Beth Beavers and Linda Conrad.

Tour Local Radio Station

The Vocational Guidance Class, which is a new one on Westfall's curriculum this year, journeyed to WNRE broadcasting station in Circleville, as a part of a recent field trip.

Nineteen students participated in this activity. The chaperones were Mrs. Shearer, Mrs. Christensen, and Mrs. Shannon the bus driver.

The students went into the small radio room and watched P. J. Ryal at work. Mr. Ryal explained the daily routine of songs, news, and commercials. A few students were permitted to dedicate songs to various people. All the pupils thoroughly enjoyed the field trip.

Mr. Edward Holmes, guidance counselor, is now preparing a trip to Barnhill's Laundry for Feb. 29. The class will also be journeying to General Electric, Pittsburgh Plate Glass and RCA in the near future.

Extend School Day For Westfall

Alarm clocks of the WHS students will be ringing slightly earlier next fall due to the decision of the Westfall Board of Education to hold extended sessions.

The Board decided that the high school students are to be the ones to awaken at the crack of dawn and be ready to start to work promptly at 7 a.m. End of the six-hour day will be at 1 p.m.

This new time schedule has brought up many questions such as "Is the cafeteria going to serve breakfast, lunch, or brunch?" The schedule will allow girls to watch their favorite afternoon TV series.

If the old saying "Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise" is really true, Westfall will have some of the healthiest, wealthiest, and wisest students around.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Loving But Cool Wife Upsets Marriage

DEAR ABBY: I know it's impossible, but I would give a year's pay to meet "Practically Untouched," because I am just as hungry for affection as she is.

There is only one difference. My wife loves me (I think) and she is an attractive, intelligent woman who is fun to be with but I just can't get her into the bedroom.

If I want to retire early, she stays up watching television until I'm asleep. If I come home late from a business appointment, she's asleep. Or pretends to be.

I am no slouch, either. I'm 6 feet 1 and weigh 180. I'm fit as a fiddle, have a headful of premature silver gray hair, play golf and tennis in summer and handball in winter.

ON THE VERGE

DEAR ON: I hope this letter reaches you time because you sound like a man with one foot in somebody else's bed. You say your wife is intelligent. If she is, sit her down and read this letter to you. And if your life at home doesn't improve after that, she can't say she wasn't warned.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will reconsider your opinion of the lady who always did needlework when visiting with friends.

You said, "She is making a statement. The company isn't sufficiently fascinating to warrant my total attention."

Not at all! I work full time and have a large house and family, and the only time I can do needlework, a hobby which I love, is while riding in a car, at meetings and during evenings with friends.

I have finished dozens of worthwhile projects this way, and so have many of my friends. We certainly do not mean to be insulting. Needle work and knitting can become almost automatic, and need not take away from one's attention to the conversation going on. And if the conversation is boring or trivial, we are least accomplishing something! Sign me . . .

DEAR WIT: I see your point (no pun intended), and hereby reconsider.

DEAR ABBY: Put me down as one who does needlework in company. It's doctor's orders. And it has done wonders for me. In fact, I think I owe my "sanity" to the needlework I have done in the last two years.

Most of my friends know why I am almost never without my little tote bag of needlework. And the others can go jump in the lake.

By the way, I am a male.

Emphasis In 4-H Undergoes Change

The early-day "corn, pig and canning" clubs — forerunners of 4-H — were started to teach families improved practices in farming and homemaking through teaching boys and girls. The emphasis then was on the project.

Very soon leaders saw that the project should not be the end in itself, but rather a means of working with youth. Projects have changed with the times, adapting to the new situations in which young people find themselves.

Nearly 100 projects are available now to interest young people throughout the nation. Many boys and girls growing up on farms will have to find jobs in cities and 4-H is helping them explore and prepare for new career possibilities.

Citizenship programs appeal especially to the teenage member, teaching a citizen's responsibility to himself, to the group and to his community.

Through 4-H, boys and girls learn to live and work cooperatively with others. 4-H strengthens the bonds of understanding between youth in this country as well as overseas.

Prosecutor Aides Linked To Liquor

CINCINNATI (AP) — A disclosure that two Hamilton County assistant prosecutors were involved in a Covington, Ky., liquor store operation that delivered untaxed liquor to Ohioans resulted in the resignation of one and a promise by the other to get out of the operation.

Hamilton County Prosecutor Simon Leis Jr. Tuesday announced the resignation of Arthur Plate, who was a partner in the Bridge Liquor Store. Leis said Robert Sachs, a vice president in the store, had said he would sever his relationship with it.

Leis added that he did not have evidence to consider prosecution.

Ohio Liquor Director Richard Guggenheim, in Columbus, said he was "shocked" at the disclosure, and would look into the matter. The Cincinnati Enquirer reported.

"It is very definitely against the law to bootleg liquor into Ohio," Guggenheim said.

"And to think it was being done by an assistant prosecutor—that's amazing."

'Rubberneck' Is Selected Class Play

Rubberneck for mayor!!!
Once again the Wilkins family is faced with a crisis that arrives every two years. Uncle Elwyn is running for mayor as he has for the last 14 years. You would think he would become discouraged after having lost the election on seven consecutive occasions, but nothing seems to discourage him.

But alas, Father Wilkins has no enthusiasm whatsoever and refuses to have the home used as campaign headquarters. This unfortunately crushes the plans of Uncle Elwyn as well as those of Mayor Crawford who warns the Wilkins family of dire consequences if Uncle Elwyn is not in the running.

Immediately the entire family unites to run a stuffed dummy named "Rubberneck" for mayor. Be sure not to miss this comedy in three acts to be re-enacted late in March.

Results of the try-outs were recently posted. Students receiving parts were: Sandy Peart, who will play as Bobbie Wilkins, Judy Schein as Mother Wilkins, Cheryl Miller as Aunt Roberta Ford, Becky Beauman as Melanie Wilkins, Bonnie Bailey as Wendy Crawford, Bev Lance as Miss Greer, Mike Puckett as Father Wilkins.

Bob Schobert as Uncle Elwyn Buford, Russ Carson as Arnold Gormeyer, Chuck Kennedy as the illustrious Mayor Crawford, and Rodger Spradlin as Philip Probusner. Makk Stubbs will play a double role as cab driver and photographer. Student directors for the play are Beth Beavers and Linda Conrad.

Tour Local Radio Station

The Vocational Guidance Class, which is a new one on Westfall's curriculum this year, journeyed to WNRE broadcasting station in Circleville, as a part of a recent field trip.

Nineteen students participated in this activity. The chaperones were Mrs. Shearer, Mrs. Christensen, and Mrs. Shannon the bus driver.

The students went into the small radio room and watched P. J. Ryal at work. Mr. Ryal explained the daily routine of songs, news, and commercials. A few students were permitted to dedicate songs to various people. All the pupils thoroughly enjoyed the field trip.

Mr. Edward Holmes, guidance counselor, is now preparing a trip to Barnhill's Laundry for Feb. 29. The class will also be journeying to General Electric, Pittsburgh Plate Glass and RCA in the near future.

Extend School Day For Westfall

Alarm clocks of the WHS students will be ringing slightly earlier next fall due to the decision of the Westfall Board of Education to hold extended sessions.

The Board decided that the high school students are to be the ones to awaken at the crack of dawn and be ready to start to work promptly at 7 a.m. End of the six-hour day will be at 1 p.m.

This new time schedule has brought up many questions such as "Is the cafeteria going to serve breakfast, lunch, or brunch?" The schedule will allow girls to watch their favorite afternoon TV series.

If the old saying "Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise" is really true, Westfall will have some of the healthiest, wealthiest, and wisest students around.

TJB Music Is Newest Sound

Tijuana music, noisy Mexican-American voices, narrow streets, confusion, and motion are all captured in the sounds of the newly formed Tijuana Brass group. Mr. James Kibby leads the group of seniors in performing various foot-stomping tunes. "El Garbanzo," "El Lobo," "The Lonely Bull," "Spanish Flea," and "Tijuana Taxi" are among the favorites of the group.

The "Senior Sounds" provided entertainment at the Westfall-Jackson P.T.B. Variety Show and also the variety show held at Ashville Elementary.

Members of the group include Mr. Kibby and Mark Hosler on cornet, Chuck Steinhauer on trombone, Barb Justus on percussion, and Judy Schein on piano.

Derby residents were saddened to hear of the passing of one of our life-long residents. Mrs. Nettie Kilpatrick, who died recently. She had been in ailing health for several years.

She will be pleasantly remembered here as a kind, friendly and gentle person, much-liked by all who had the pleasure of knowing her. To her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eddings of Harrisburg, we extend our condolences.

To Mrs. Clara Wolf and the family, our sympathy on the death of her sister-in-law Mrs. Geneva Folroad, who passed away last week.

Mrs. John Musselman home from the hospital after surgery and slowly improving.

Birthday greetings to Helen Norris, Donna Byer — Feb. 27; Kelly Picklesimer — Feb. 28; Susan Wright — Mar. 1; Jay Clark, Teddy Hamric — Mar. 2; Randy Puckett, Jerry Sherrock — Mar. 3; Ruthann Hughes, Jill Kahler and Mark Henson — all on March 4.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Loving But Cool Wife Upsets Marriage

DEAR ABBY: I know it's impossible, but I would give a year's pay to meet "Practically Untouched," because I am just as hungry for affection as she is.

There is only one difference. My wife loves me (I think) and she is an attractive, intelligent woman who is fun to be with but I just can't get her into the bedroom.

If I want to retire early, she stays up watching television until I'm asleep. If I come home late from a business appointment, she's asleep. Or pretends to be.

I am no slouch, either. I'm 6 feet 1 and weigh 180. I'm fit as a fiddle, have a headful of premature silver gray hair, play golf and tennis in summer and handball in winter.

Move To Curb 'Commercial' Term Papers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A move is under way in a small but growing number of states to curb what is becoming a successful service industry in college towns from the Ivy League to the Pacific Coast—merchandising term papers on the open market.

In the California Legislature, the New York courts and the Massachusetts attorney general's office, public officials backed or goaded by college authorities are moving against young entrepreneurs who are getting rich by churning out other people's homework.

Ever since a pair of pioneering brothers launched a Boston term paper factory 18 months ago and extended its operations to 49 other branches nationwide, more than 100,000 papers have been sold to students and the number of competing firms is proliferating.

"I am helping students overcome the busy work and repetition and wasted time of going from shelf to shelf and page to page doing term papers in which no learning is involved," says Ward Warren, 23, who with his brother, Kenneth, 27, founded Term Paper Research Unlimited Inc.

The brothers say they did $1.8 million worth of business last year.

Termpapers Unlimited and the others advertise openly in campus newspapers—"Are you cramped for time? Let us help you," reads one ad—and reach students who pay from $2 to $6 a page for documented research on topics as varied as Aztec social structure to Zambian foreign policy.

The papers are composed by ghostwriters, including moonlighting faculty members, graduate students and technical writers—many with M.A. and Ph.D. degrees—who sign agreements relinquishing their rights to their works.

"We've given these trained people a better way to make money and the students have access to a clearing house for information," said Ed Whalen, 29, a former English instructor who is vice president and chief editor for Creative Communications Consultants in Urbana, Ill.

The ghostwriters get anywhere from $2 to $5 a page for their products.

This view—and the practice of peddling term papers—is the target of a measure introduced by California Assemblyman Jim Keyser that would make it a misdemeanor to sell term papers to students in higher education institutions.

"This bill is against the sellers and not against students," said Keyser, a Granada Hills Democrat. "I think getting it passed could be a little tough because people will argue you can't legislate morality."

The reaction of educators and administrators to the term paper business has been mixed, ranging from violent opposition to philosophical re-evaluation of the efficacy of term papers.

Harvard Dean of Students Archie Epps calls the term paper companies "a blot on the conscience of American institutions of higher learning" and an official at Southern Illinois University said the firms reflect "a breakdown in the relationship between faculty and students."

On the other hand, David J. Carson, dean of students at Babson College in Massachusetts, Ward Warren's alma mater, sees the term paper companies as a spur to new thinking.

"Perhaps there will be some serious and beneficial gains out of all this if it causes some re-evaluation of the whole process of which term papers are a part," he said.

Ward Warren said students seem to have no second thoughts about buying a term paper. He told a story of a freshman who bought and submitted as his own work a five-page paper entitled, "Why I wouldn't use a Professional Term Paper Writing Service." Not every student is a potential customer, Warren said, and Termpapers Unlimited occasionally advises would-be clients to do the work themselves if the paper is a short one.

Would he himself purchase a term paper prepared by a commercial service? Warren was asked.

"No, sir," he replied with a straight face. "I've got an image to protect."

Move To Curb 'Commercial' Term Papers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A move is under way in a small but growing number of states to curb what is becoming a successful service industry in college towns from the Ivy League to the Pacific Coast—merchandising term papers on the open market.

In the California Legislature, the New York courts and the Massachusetts attorney general's office, public officials backed or goaded by college authorities are moving against young entrepreneurs who are getting rich by churning out other people's homework.

Ever since a pair of pioneering brothers launched a Boston term paper factory 18 months ago and extended its operations to 49 other branches nationwide, more than 100,000 papers have been sold to students and the number of competing firms is proliferating.

"I am helping students overcome the busy work and repetition and wasted time of going from shelf to shelf and page to page doing term papers in which no learning is involved," says Ward Warren, 23, who with his brother, Kenneth, 27, founded Term Paper Research Unlimited Inc.

The brothers say they did $1.8 million worth of business last year.

Termpapers Unlimited and the others advertise openly in campus newspapers—"Are you cramped for time? Let us help you," reads one ad—and reach students who pay from $2 to $6 a page for documented research on topics as varied as Aztec social structure to Zambian foreign policy.

The papers are composed by ghostwriters, including moonlighting faculty members, graduate students and technical writers—many with M.A. and Ph.D. degrees—who sign agreements relinquishing their rights to their works.

"We've given these trained people a better way to make money and the students have access to a clearing house for information," said Ed Whalen, 29, a former English instructor who is vice president and chief editor for Creative Communications Consultants in Urbana, Ill.

The ghostwriters get anywhere from $2 to $5 a page for their products.

This view—and the practice of peddling term papers—is the target of a measure introduced by California Assemblyman Jim Keyser that would make it a misdemeanor to sell term papers to students in higher education institutions.

"This bill is against the sellers and not against students," said Keyser, a Granada Hills Democrat. "I think getting it passed could be a little tough because people will argue you can't legislate morality."

The reaction of educators and administrators to the term paper business has been mixed, ranging from violent opposition to philosophical re-evaluation of the efficacy of term papers.

Harvard Dean of Students Archie Epps calls the term paper companies "a blot on the conscience of American institutions of higher learning" and an official at Southern Illinois University said the firms reflect "a breakdown in the relationship between faculty and students."

On the other hand, David J. Carson, dean of students at Babson College in Massachusetts, Ward Warren's alma mater, sees the term paper companies as a spur to new thinking.

"Perhaps there will be some serious and beneficial gains out of all this if it causes some re-evaluation of the whole process of which term papers are a part," he said.

Ward Warren said students seem to have no second thoughts about buying a term paper. He told a story of a freshman who bought and submitted as his own work a five-page paper entitled, "Why I wouldn't Use a Professional Term Paper Writing Service." Not every student is a potential customer, Warren said, and Termpapers Unlimited occasionally advises would-be clients to do the work themselves if the paper is a short one.

Would he himself purchase a term paper prepared by a commercial service? Warren was asked.

"No, sir," he replied with a straight face. "I've got an image to protect."

Ohio State, Minnesota On Top In Big Ten

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota and Ohio State are battling once again . . . for the Big Ten basketball lead.

The two rivals, who staged a donnybrook last month that resulted in two Minnesota players being suspended, surged back to the top of the wild and woolly Big Ten race Tuesday night.

Unranked Minnesota edged Purdue 48-43 and 14th-ranked Ohio State crushed Illinois 103-70 while No. 16 Michigan, which had a half-game lead entering the night's play, bowed to Indiana 79-75 and fell a half-game behind.

The big noise nationally, however, came down South where unheralded North Carolina State stunned third-ranked North Carolina 85-84 on Paul Coder's three-point play with seven seconds left.

Elsewhere, second-ranked Louisville remained atop the Missouri Valley Conference with a 90-85 victory over North Texas State, setting up Thursday night's showdown with Memphis State; fourth-rated Penn ripped St. Joseph's 77-64;

No. 9 Marshall downed North Carolina-Charlotte 76-59 and the hectic Southwest Conference race narrowed from a five-to-a three-way tie among defending champion Texas Christian, Texas and Southern Methodist.

Minnesota rallied from a 16-point first-half deficit to turn back Purdue, holding the Boilermakers without a field goal over the final 7½ minutes. Bob Nix, who led the Gophers with 15 points, sank two free throws to tie the game at 39-and his basket with 1:48 remaining sent them ahead to stay.

Ohio State hit 51 per cent of its shots against Illinois, with Allan Hornyak scoring 27 points, Wardell Jackson 23 and Luke Witte 21. Coach Fred Taylor said it was "the best we've played offensively" in more than a month. "The kids have been so grim. Burk (assistant coach Bob Burkholder) even tried reading them a poem before the game."

Harv Schmidt, Illinois' coach, was more impressed with the Buckeyes' defense, calling it "the best Ohio State defensive team I've seen."

Schmidt then took a look at the Big Ten stretch drive. "Ohio State has a tough game at Indiana, which is playing very well. Minnesota's awesome, Michigan is probably at a disadvantage with two of three on the road."

The Wolverines lost a road game Tuesday to Indiana, although they wiped out an 11-point halftime deficit. Joby Wright paced the winners with 24 points while Henry Wilmore had 27 for Michigan.

N.C. State's triumph was the 300th for Coach Norman Sloan, who said that nothing could be finer than to beat North Carolina. "If you had to pick a game for your 300th win it would be against North Carolina."

Coder was the star of the show, scoring the last seven points for the Wolfpack. The loss dropped the Tar Heels into a tie with Virginia for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead.

State led 44-33 at halftime but Carolina roared back and led 84-80 with 1:14 to play. Coder then hit a jump shot and followed with the three-point game-winner. Tommy Burleson led the Wolfpack with 24 points and Dennis Wuyck had 30 for the losers.

Louisville had trouble with North Texas State's zone press but beat the Eagles at the foul line, sinking 18 of 26 to the losers' nine of 11. Jim Price scored 23 points and Ron Thomas 21 for the Cardinals while Jerry Sasser paced the low-flying Eagles with 23.

Al Cotler's 25 points sparked Penn over St. Joseph's and earned the Quakers a share of the Philadelphia City Series championship with Temple.

"They look like the best in the East to me," said Jack McKinney, the St. Joseph's coach. "I've seen North and South Carolina and I've seen Penn a few times. I think they're better than North Carolina."

Marshall struggled past UNC-Charlotte despite 19 turnovers as Randy Noll scored 22 points and grabbed 14 rebounds while Mike D'Antoni had 15 points and 13 assists.

"It was one of our poorest games of the season," said Carl Tacy, coach of the 23-2 Thundering Herd.

In the frantic SWC, Texas Christian nipped Texas Tech 89-88 on Jim Ferguson's basket with 26 seconds left. Bobby Rollins scored 21 points as SMU downed Rice 78-69 and Texas shot 55.5 per cent and held off a late Texas A & M charge for an 80-73 triumph.

Tech and A & M had been part of the five-way deadlock.

In a meaningless SWC game, Arkansas set a league scoring record by trouncing Baylor 131-109 as Dean Tolson scored 34 points and Martin Terry 33.

The old record was 119 points shared by Baylor and Texas A&M.

County Teams Ready For Finals

All four Pickaway County basketball teams, still alive in rough post-season tournament games after wins last weekend, are preparing for games this weekend that, if won, will match them with the state's elite at the district level in the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The county's two Class A teams, Westfall and Logan Elm, are scheduled to play in the finals of the Grove City sectional while Teays Valley and Circleville will represent the county in the finals of the Groveport Class AA sectional.

And none of the teams have easy games. Logan Elm's Braves are preparing for a rough West Jefferson team 8 p.m. Friday.

West Jeff, described as "real strong" by LE coach Chuck Pritchard, comes to the finals with a 14-4 regular season slate. It will be their first tournament game.

Logan Elm rallied to dump Ohio Deaf 62-54 last Saturday to qualify for the game.

The game is expected to be a potpourri of similar styles, according to Pritchard, who has scouted West Jeff several times.

Like the Braves, West Jefferson is capable of employing various defensive and offensive patterns to suit the flow of the game. Neither team likes to use run-and-shoot offensive tactics, and will stick fairly close to the pattern they practice.

West Jefferson's key is crisp passing underneath to their center or forwards who freelance under the basket.

Logan Elm is unsure of a starting lineup, due to a flu bug, but Pritchard feels his team will be ready physically, with their overall size, for the contest.

Westfall, coming off of a 57-51 overtime victory over St. Charles, will play Jonathon Alder 8 p.m. Saturday in the upper bracket sectional finals.

Alder gained the berth by clubbing Fairbanks, a team they had lost to in regular season.

THE Mustangs will go with Larry Harris, John Valone, Scott Riddle, Doug McKay and Mike Peters or Chuck Steinhauer against a well-balanced Alder squad.

According to Coach Larry Bigam, Alder is a tall, strong and well balanced squad, with three starters 6-foot 3-inches or better. The Mustangs will have to rely on speed and precision patterns in their offense and strong, aggressive work under the boards.

Flordians, Top Condors; Win 134-126

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Carolina Cougars, given a day off by the American Basketball Association schedule-maker could hardly relax Tuesday night.

Sandwiched between Pittsburgh and the Flordians in the three-way fight for fourth place in the ABA's East Division, the Cougars didn't quite know whom to root for when those two clubs went against each other.

The Flordians wound up on top 134-126 and moved one-half game ahead of Carolina in the standings. The loss dropped the Condors 4½ behind the Cougars.

In the only other ABA game played Tuesday night, Utah defeated Memphis 125-115.

Al Tucker's 22 points paced the Flordians past the Condors. Pittsburgh, which got 44 points from George Thompson and 33 from Bob Verga, bounced from behind and led 120-114 with less than five minutes remaining.

But the Flordians tightened up, stealing several passes and converting them for baskets that gave them the lead for keeps.

Teays Valley, coming off a strong 67-50 verdict over

Jerry West, Lakers Beat N.Y. Knicks

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry West's shooting has earned him the name "Mr. Clutch." So it isn't surprising when his great shooting wins a game.

The Los Angeles Lakers' guard, with 11 years as a professional in the National Basketball Association, was the spark Tuesday night in a 114-111 victory over the New York Knicks.

It was West's field goal after 12 seconds of the fourth quarter that gave the Lakers the lead. It was another Mr. Clutch basket in the last half minute that iced the game for Los Angeles.

The 33-year-old star scored 32 points, 22 in the second half.

At an age when many ballplayers are checking their retirement plans, West is checking the opposition for the NBA playoffs.

The victory over the Pacific Division title for the Lakers and puts the team on a collision course with the Chicago Bulls, the runner-up team in the Midwest Division of the Western Conference.

"It's been a relatively easy season," West said, toweeling off after the Knicks' contest. "Coach (Bill) Sharman has been resting me. It makes it easier for me and it helps the team."

Is he thinking retirement? "So many people have retired me," he said. "But I'm not sure what I'm going to do. I'd like to keep playing but I'm just going to wait and see. Meanwhile, I have the playoffs to think about."

In other NBA action, Milwaukee defeated Detroit 131-113, Seattle edged Baltimore 118-117, Atlanta trimmed Buffalo 99-98, Chicago thumped Portland 116-92, and Golden State topped Cincinnati 128-120.

Clay Carroll Still Holdout Among Cincy Red Pitchers

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Relief pitcher Clay Carroll today headed a list of four official holdouts on the Cincinnati

Reds, but the arguments over his 1971 pitching record appeared to be a bigger hurdle than salary.

Carroll earlier said publicly he wanted about a $10,000 raise to put him in the $50,000 class. He said his 10-4 record, .246 earned run average and eight saves warranted the raise.

The Reds countered that four times Carroll gave up the winning run sticking another pitcher with the loss and that his ERA was eighth among the team's relievers.

Carroll said he had reduced his demand to $48,000 "but I won't sign for a penny less." The Reds reportedly came up to $46,000. "We're only a few thousand apart now," said Carroll.

Carroll said the club was "trying to belittle me to get me to take less money. But I don't believe them. I know I do the job."

Unsigned players automatically become official holdouts on Mar. 1.

Three other unsigned Reds are Bernie Carbo and Hal McRae, outfielders, and shortstop Dave Concepcion.

On Tuesday, Reds Manager Sparky Anderson announced he will move two-time National League batting champion Pete Rose to left field from right.

Rose won the crown in 1969-70. He said Bobby Tolan, if able, would play center and right field would be played by either Cesar Geronimo, obtained from Houston, or George Foster.

If Tolan, out all last season with an Achilles tendon injury, cannot cover the ground, he will go to right, Anderson explained. Foster-Geronimo or Ted Uhlaender will then play center.

"It's okay with me," said Rose. "In right field Roberto Clemente and Hank Aaron stole all the thunder from me." Clemente is with Pittsburgh and Aaron with Atlanta.

Rose said he came to camp early to work on his right hand hitting. A switch-hitter, Rose bats right against lefthand pitching and holds a .298 average hitting right.

"There is a lot of good lefthand pitching in this league now," said Rose.

Big Ten Appeal Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The chairman of the Big Ten faculty representatives said he received Tuesday an appeal by the University of Minnesota of season-long suspensions of two Gopher basketball players.

But Roy Larmee of Ohio State said he doubted an appeal hearing could be set up by Friday, as requested by Minnesota.

"I'm not sure that will be granted," said Larmee.

He added that an announcement of the hearing date would come from the Big Ten office in Chicago. "I have no intention of announcing a hearing out of here," Larmee said.

Minnesota players Corky Taylor and Ron Behagen were suspended for their part in a brawl during the Gopher-Ohio State basketball game Jan. 25.

The suspensions were upheld last week by Big Ten athletic directors after a court-ordered hearing in Minneapolis.

Clay Carroll Still Holdout Among Cincy Red Pitchers

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Relief pitcher Clay Carroll today headed a list of four official holdouts on the Cincinnati

Reds, but the arguments over his 1971 pitching record appeared to be a bigger hurdle than salary.

Carroll earlier said publicly he wanted about a $10,000 raise to put him in the $50,000 class. He said his 10-4 record, .246 earned run average and eight saves warranted the raise.

The Reds countered that four times Carroll gave up the winning run sticking another pitcher with the loss and that his ERA was eighth among the team's relievers.

Carroll said he had reduced his demand to $48,000 "but I won't sign for a penny less." The Reds reportedly came up to $46,000. "We're only a few thousand apart now," said Carroll.

Carroll said the club was "trying to belittle me to get me to take less money. But I don't believe them. I know I do the job."

Unsigned players automatically become official holdouts on Mar. 1.

Three other unsigned Reds are Bernie Carbo and Hal McRae, outfielders, and shortstop Dave Concepcion.

On Tuesday, Reds Manager Sparky Anderson announced he will move two-time National League batting champion Pete Rose to left field from right. Rose won the crown in 1969-70.

He said Bobby Tolan, if able, would play center and right field would be played by either Cesar Geronimo, obtained from Houston, or George Foster.

Rose said he came to camp early to work on his right hand hitting. A switch-hitter, Rose bats right against lefthand pitching and holds a .298 average hitting right.

"There is a lot of good lefthanded pitching in this league now," said Rose.

Ohio State, Minnesota On Top In Big Ten

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota and Ohio State are battling once again . . . for the Big Ten basketball lead.

The two rivals, who staged a donnybrook last month that resulted in two Minnesota players being suspended, surged back to the top of the wild and woolly Big Ten race Tuesday night. Unranked Minnesota edged Purdue 48-43 and 14th-ranked Ohio State crushed Illinois 103-70 while No. 16 Michigan, which had a half-game lead entering the night's play, bowed to Indiana 79-75 and fell a half-game behind.

The big noise nationally, however, came down South where unheralded North Carolina State stunned third-ranked North Carolina 85-84 on Paul Coder's three-point play with seven seconds left.

Elsewhere, second-ranked Louisville remained atop the Missouri Valley Conference with a 90-85 victory over North Texas State, setting up Thursday night's showdown with Memphis State; fourth-rated Penn ripped St. Joseph's 77-64.

Hamilton Twp., will pit their emotional strength and offensive patterns against top-seeded and once beaten Bexley in the upper bracket finals 8 p.m. Friday at Groveport.

Bexley, a small, quick team, according to Coach Bob Hoover, tries to maintain both pattern and steady play in their offensive and defensive efforts.

For scoring, they will rely on outside shots and set-ups under their basket. They usually use either a 2-1 full court pressure defense or a 2-3 half-court zone, letting their quick guards cut off opponent's play.

The Vikings will counter with a taller unit of Sabine, Pontius, Bumgarner, Logsdon and Sheets.

Key to the victory will be the play of the Viking big men under the boards, according to Hoover, who expects a crisply played patterned game.

Hoover also pointed out that the Vikings dropped a highly regarded Bexley team from tournament competition two years ago, and says his young Vikings are capable of duplicating the feat Friday.

Circleville, with premier guard Terry Morrison still requiring treatment for a sore ankle, will have a good, physical game with Mifflin, according to Coach John Lawhorn, in their battle for the lower bracket finals 8 p.m. Saturday at Groveport.

The Tigers gained their berth by wringing DeSales 62-61 Saturday. Mifflin took the second game in a squeaker over Wettersen 61-59.

The Tiger big men, Dan Graham, Dave Truex and Don

Valentine, will have to check out "awfully strong" and "do a good job of blocking" according to Lawhorn, who has watched the trio do just that for many games. Lawhorn says the Tigers will be in good shape physically for the game and will have to use every bit of that strength to keep even with a rough and tumble Mifflin squad.

MIFFLIN likes to use a quick and physical shuffle off a freeline type offense that carries into their man-to-man defense.

Lawhorn feels that if the Tigers can remain settled and work their smooth pattern, they can do the job.

"The key to the game will be who controls the game's tempo," Lawhorn said. He expects to see Circleville wait for a good shot and Mifflin to make an all out charge for the basket.

The winner of the game will advance to district level 7 p.m. Tuesday against the winner of the Newark lower bracket sectional.

Hank Aaron Given $200,000 Contract

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Hank Aaron, who holds five major league and 11 National League batting records, holds another record of sorts today — he probably is the nation's highest paid baseball player.

Aaron, with 639 career home runs and only 75 away from Babe Ruth's record of 714, signed what was believed to be a three-year contract Tuesday at a salary reportedly in the neighborhood of $200,000 a year.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Jerry West's shooting has earned him the name "Mr. Clutch." So it isn't surprising when his great shooting wins a game.

The Los Angeles Lakers' guard, with 11 years as a professional in the National Basketball Association, was the spark Tuesday night in a 114-111 victory over the New York Knicks.

It was West's field goal after 12 seconds of the fourth quarter that gave the Lakers the lead. It was another Mr. Clutch basket in the last half minute that iced the game for Los Angeles.

The 33-year-old star scored 32 points, 22 in the second half.

At an age when many ballplayers are checking their retirement plans, West is checking the opposition for the NBA playoffs. The victory over the Knicks clinched the Pacific Division title for the Lakers and puts the team on a collision course with the Chicago Bulls, the runner-up team in the Midwest Division of the Western Conference.

"It's been a relatively easy season," West said, toweeling off after the Knicks' contest. "Coach (Bill) Sharman has been resting me. It makes it easier for me and it helps the team."

Is he thinking retirement? "So many people have retired me," he said. "But I'm not sure what I'm going to do. I'd like to keep playing but I'm just going to wait and see. Meanwhile, I have the playoffs to think about."

In other NBA action, Milwaukee defeated Detroit 131-113, Seattle edged Baltimore 118-117, Atlanta trimmed Buffalo 99-98, Chicago thumped Portland 116-92, and Golden State topped Cincinnati 128-120.

Floridians Top Condors; Win 134-126

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Carolina Cougars, given a day off by the American Basketball Association schedule-maker could hardly relax Tuesday night.

Sandwiched between Pittsburgh and the Floridians in the three-way fight for fourth place in the ABA's East Division, the Cougars didn't quite know whom to root for when those two clubs went against each other.

The Floridians wound up on top 134-126 and moved one-half game ahead of Carolina in the standings. The loss dropped the Condors 4½ behind the Cougars.

In the only other ABA game played Tuesday night, Utah defeated Memphis 125-115.

Al Tucker's 22 points paced the Floridians past the Condors. Pittsburgh, which got 44 points from George Thompson and 33 from Bob Verga, bounced from behind and led 120-114 with less than five minutes remaining.

But the Floridians tightened up, stealing several passes and converting them for baskets that gave them the lead for keeps.

Aspromonte also is high on Phillips, who had three pretty good seasons with the Chicago Cubs from 1966 through 1968, but later had personal differences with managers Leo Durocher and Gene Mauch.

The Indians also have vacancies at shortstop and on the pitching staff, but right field is the key position because if it doesn't "take care of itself" as Aspromonte predicts it will, a trade will be necessary.

County Teams Ready For Finals

All four Pickaway County basketball teams, still alive in rough post-season tournament games after wins last weekend, are preparing for games this weekend that, if won, will match them with the state's elite at the district level in the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The county's two Class A teams, Westfall and Logan Elm, are scheduled to play in the finals of the Grove City sectional while Teays Valley and Circleville will represent the county in the finals of the Groveport Class AA sectional.

And none of the teams have easy games. Logan Elm's Braves are preparing for a rough West Jefferson team 8 p.m. Friday.

West Jeff, described as "real strong" by LE coach Chuck Pritchard, comes to the finals with a 14-4 regular season slate. It will be their first tournament game.

Logan Elm rallied to dump Ohio Deaf 62-54 last Saturday to qualify for the game.

The game is expected to be a potpourri of similar styles, according to Pritchard, who has scouted West Jeff several times.

Like the Braves, West Jefferson is capable of employing various defensive and offensive patterns to suit the flow of the game. Neither team likes to use run-and-shoot offensive tactics, and will stick fairly close to the pattern they practice.

West Jefferson's key is crisp passing underneath to their center or forwards who freelance under the basket.

Logan Elm is unsure of a starting lineup, due to a flu bug, but Pritchard feels his team will be ready physically, with their overall size, for the contest.

Westfall, coming off of a 57-51 overtime victory over St. Charles, will play Jonathon Alder 8 p.m. Saturday in the upper bracket sectional finals. Alder gained the berth by clubbing Fairbanks, a team they had lost to in regular season.

THE Mustangs will go with Larry Harris, John Valone, Scott Riddle, Doug McKay and Mike Peters or Chuck Steinhauser against a well-balanced Alder squad.

According to Coach Larry Bigam, Alder is a tall, strong and well balanced squad, with three starters 6-foot 3-inches or better. The Mustangs will have to rely on speed and precision patterns in their offense and strong, aggressive work under the boards.

Tribe Chief Eyes Vacancy

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Prime candidates for the Cleveland Indians' outfield vacancy are Ted Ford, Adolpho Phillips, John Lowenstein and Kurt Bevacqua.

Manager Ken Aspromonte said Tuesday that he is not worried about the right field vacancy because "we've got some good boys fighting for the job."

Mike Hershberger also is trying to prolong his major league career as a right fielder, but at present Aspromonte doesn't include the veteran from Massillon among the candidates for the job.

"Right now the job is up for grabs among Ford, Phillips, Lowenstein and Bevacqua," the manager said.

"I'm not leaning toward anybody in particular, although I have to say that I think I know what Ford and Lowenstein can do. And because I do, I don't understand why they haven't done better in other opportunities."

"The way Bevacqua hit in winter ball, he's got to get a chance somewhere, and right field might be his best position."

Aspromonte also is high on Phillips, who had three pretty good seasons with the Chicago Cubs from 1966 through 1968, but later had personal differences with managers Leo Durocher and Gene Mauch.

The Indians also have vacancies at shortstop and on the pitching staff, but right field is the key position because if it doesn't "take care of itself" as Aspromonte predicts it will, a trade will be necessary.

team I've seen." Schmidt then took a look at the Big Ten stretch drive. "Ohio State has a tough game at Indiana, which is playing very well. Minnesota's awesome. Michigan is probably at a disadvantage with two of three on the road."

The Wolverines lost a road game Tuesday to Indiana, although they wiped out an 11-point halftime deficit. Joby Wright paced the winners with 24 points while Henry Wilmore had 27 for Michigan.

N.C. State's triumph was the 300th for Coach Norman Sloan, who said that nothing could be finer than to beat North Carolina. "If you had to pick a game for your 300th win it would be against North Carolina."

Coder was the star of the show, scoring the last seven points for the Wolfpack. The loss dropped the Tar Heels into a tie with Virginia for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead.

State led 44-33 at halftime but Carolina roared back and led 84-80 with 1:14 to play. Coder then hit a jump shot and followed with the three-point game-winner. Tommy Burleson led the Wolfpack with 24 points and Dennis Wuyck with 30 for the losers.

Louisville had trouble with North Texas State's zone press but beat the Eagles at the foul line, sinking 18 of 26 to the losers' nine of 11. Jim Price scored 23 points and Ron Thomas 21 for the Cardinals while Jeryl Sasser paced the low-flying Eagles with 23.

Al Colter's 25 points sparked Penn over St. Joseph's and earned the Quakers a share of the Philadelphia City Series championship with Temple.

"They look like the best in the East to me," said Jack McKinney, the St. Joseph's coach. "I've seen North and South Carolina and I've seen Penn a few times. I think they're better than North Carolina."

Marshall struggled past UNC-Charlotte despite 19 turnovers as Randy Noll scored 22 points and grabbed 14 rebounds while Mike D'Antoni had 15 points and 13 assists.

"It was one of our poorest games of the season," said Carl Tacy, coach of the 23-2 Thundering Herd.

In the frantic SWC, Texas Christian nipped Texas Tech 89-88 on Jim Ferguson's basket with 26 seconds left. Bobby Rollings scored 21 points as SMU downed Rice 78-69 and Texas shot 55.5 per cent and held off a late Texas A & M charge for an 80-73 triumph. Tech and A & M had been part of the five-way deadlock.

In a meaningless SWC game, Arkansas set a league scoring record by trouncing Baylor 131-109 as Dean Tolson scored 34 points and Martin Terry 33. The old record was 119 points shared by Baylor and Texas A&M.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION OF OHIO FOR AN INCREASE IN ELECTRIC RATES

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN
Pursuant to the requirements of Section 4909.19 of the Revised Code of Ohio, The Dayton Power and Light Company hereby gives notice that on November 15, 1971, it filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an application for authority to amend and to increase its filed schedule of rates and charges for electric service except as to Ordinance Rates in the process of elimination in the Cities of Troy and Miamisburg and the Village of Anna and the rate for Private Outdoor Lighting Service, to revise certain of its rules and regulations in the electric service and to withdraw certain rate schedules. The substance of the revisions proposed to be incorporated in the new rate schedules and rules and regulations is as follows:

RECONNECTION CHARGE
The reconnection charge for disconnection due to nonpayment, fraud or damage will be increased from $1.00 to $5.00 for single phase service and $10.00 for three phase service. These charges will also be made applicable to seasonal reconnections.

FUEL ADJUSTMENT
The amount of fuel adjustment based on costs for June 1971 will be included in the proposed base rates. The revised fuel clause will be expressed as a separate schedule rather than being repeated in its entirety in every schedule to which it will be applicable. The revised fuel clause will be applicable to all rates except unregulated Ordinance Rates and the Private Outdoor Lighting Rate. The base of the fuel adjustment clause will be increased from $5.40 to $5.45 to reflect fuel costs for June 1971. The clause will be made retroactive to include all the Company's electric generating facilities and to eliminate fuel handling costs. The following provision will be added as to excise taxes: "The net amount of the fuel adjustment charge computed on the actual kilowatt-hours metered will be added to the minimum monthly charge in all proposed rates except the proposed Residence Rates and Limited Hour Water Heating Rate."

TAX ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE
A tax adjustment clause applicable to all rates except unregulated Ordinance Rates and the Private Outdoor Lighting Service Rate will be provided by separate schedule as follows: "The amount of any taxes levied after November 1, 1971, on the transmission or sale of electric energy, whether based upon kilowatt-hour sale, revenue, income, the amount of the bill rendered, or any other basis, or any changes in or enactments of, after November 1, 1971, any Federal, State, or local income tax laws or regulations thereunder, shall be added to the charges to be paid hereunder in the event of a reduction or elimination of any such taxes, the charges shall be reduced accordingly."

SEASONAL RATES
Seasonal rates are proposed for Residential and General Service Rate customers. A Winter rate for meter readings taken November through May is proposed which rate would be lower in certain consumption blocks than a proposed Summer rate for meter readings taken during June through October.

Plaintiff has brought this action naming you as defendants in the above named Court by filing her Complaint on November 24, 1971. The object of the Complaint is the sale under the provisions of the fractional interests statute of the State of Ohio, of the entire interest of all parties concerned in the following described real estate situated in the County of Pickaway, State of Ohio, and in the City of Circleville, Ohio, and bounded and described as follows:

Being lot number Twelve Hundred and Seventy-seven (1277), according to the plat of subdivision of the lots of said City of Circleville and being the same premises sold and conveyed to Frank Holland by Albert Hessinger and Margie B. Hessinger by deed dated March 28th, 1906, and recorded in Deed Book 81, page 526 of the records of Deeds of Pickaway County, Ohio. Being also the same premises conveyed to Allen Arbogast and Lucy Arbogast husband and wife, by Frank Holland and Arnes Holland by deed dated October 14th, 1919 and recorded in Pickaway County Ohio, Deeds Records Volume 98 at page 552.

Said premises being also known as No. 439 East Mount Street in said City of Circleville, Ohio. The plaintiff's decedent, Lucy T. Arbogast, died seized in fee simple of the undivided three fourths of the interest of the decedent, Lucy T. Arbogast, in said real estate which the plaintiff seeks to sell in order to pay debts of administration and maintenance of the decedent's estate and the prayer is that the rights, interests and liens of all parties herein may be fully determined, adjusted and protected, and that the Plaintiff may be authorized an order to sell the entire interest in said real estate, including the interest of the said decedent, Lucy T. Arbogast, and of the defendant Patricia A. Crawford, and that Plaintiff may be authorized and ordered to apply the proceeds of said sale, arising from the sale of the interest of the decedent, Lucy T. Arbogast, in said premises, to the payment of debts, costs and liabilities aforesaid, according to the interest in such cases made and provided, and for all other proper orders and relief in the premises. You are required to answer the Complaint within twenty-eight days after the last publication of this notice, which will be published once each week for six successive weeks, and the last publication will be made on March 15, 1972.

In case of your failure to answer or otherwise respond as permitted by the Ohio Rules of Civil Procedure within the time stated, judgment by default will be rendered against you for the relief demanded in the Complaint.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION OF OHIO FOR AN INCREASE IN ELECTRIC RATES TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Pursuant to the requirements of Section 497.10 of the Revised Code of Ohio, The Dayton Power and Light Company hereby gives notice that on November 16, 1971, it filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an application for an increase in its rates for electric service and charges for electric service except as to Ordinance Rates in the process of elimination in the Cities of Troy and Miamisburg and the Village of Anna and the rate for Private Outdoor Lighting Service, to revise certain of its rules and regulations for electric service and to withdraw certain rate schedules. The substance of the revisions proposed to be incorporated in the new rate schedules and rules and regulations is as follows:

RECONNECTION CHARGE
The reconnection charge for disconnection due to nonpayment, fraud or damage will be increased from $1.00 to $3.00 for single phase service and $10.00 for three phase service. These charges will also be made applicable to seasonal reconnections.

FUEL ADJUSTMENT
The amount of fuel adjustment based on costs for June 1971 will be included in the proposed base rates. The revised fuel clause will be expressed as a separate schedule rather than included in the base rates in every schedule which it will be applicable. The revised fuel clause will be applicable to all rates except unregulated Ordinance Rates and the Private Outdoor Lighting Service. The amount of the fuel adjustment clause will be increased from $0.0045/kwh to $0.142/kwh to reflect fuel costs for June 1971. The clause will be modified to include all of the Company's electric generating facilities and to eliminate fuel handling costs. The fuel adjustment will be added as to the net amount of the net amount of the decrease or increase determined above shall be adjusted by the amount of any excise taxes saved or payable by the Company with respect to the amount of the decrease or increase determined above. The fuel adjustment charge computed on the actual kilowatt-hours metered will be added to the minimum monthly charge in all proposed rates except the proposed Residence Rates and Limited House Water Heating Rate.

TAX ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE
A tax adjustment clause applicable to all rates except unregulated Ordinance Rates and the Private Outdoor Lighting Service will be provided by separate schedule as follows: "The amount of any new or additional taxes levied after November 1, 1971, on the production, transmission or sale of electric energy, or gross receipts from the transmission or sale of electric energy, whether based upon kilowatt-hour sale, revenue, income, the amount of the bill rendered, or any other basis, or any changes in or enactments of, after November 1, 1971, any Federal, State or Local Income Tax laws or regulations, shall be added to the charges to be paid hereunder in the event of a reduction or elimination of any such taxes, the charges shall be reduced accordingly."

SEASONAL RATES
Seasonal rates are proposed for Residential and General Service Rate customers. A Winter rate for meter readings taken November through May is proposed which rate would be lower in certain consumer blocks than a proposed Summer rate for meter readings taken during June through October.

POWER RATE P-1 (IN PROCESS OF ELIMINATION)
The rate will be adjusted to provide an increase of 20% to all customers served thereunder. The proposed rate will be increased from 3 per cent to 5 per cent to conform to the change in other rates.

LIMITED HOUR WATER HEATING SERVICE RATE (IN PROCESS OF ELIMINATION)
It is proposed to withdraw this rate as of a date certain. The Company will contact all consumers served on this rate at the time of the Commission Order. The Company will make necessary wiring changes to combine such service with the applicable standard service of the consumer. In the interim the rate will be increased from $0.015 per kwh for the first 100 kwh to $0.025 and for all use over 100 kwh from $0.010 per kwh to $0.015. The minimum monthly charge will be increased from $1.50 to $2.25 and the rate will be subject to fuel adjustment.

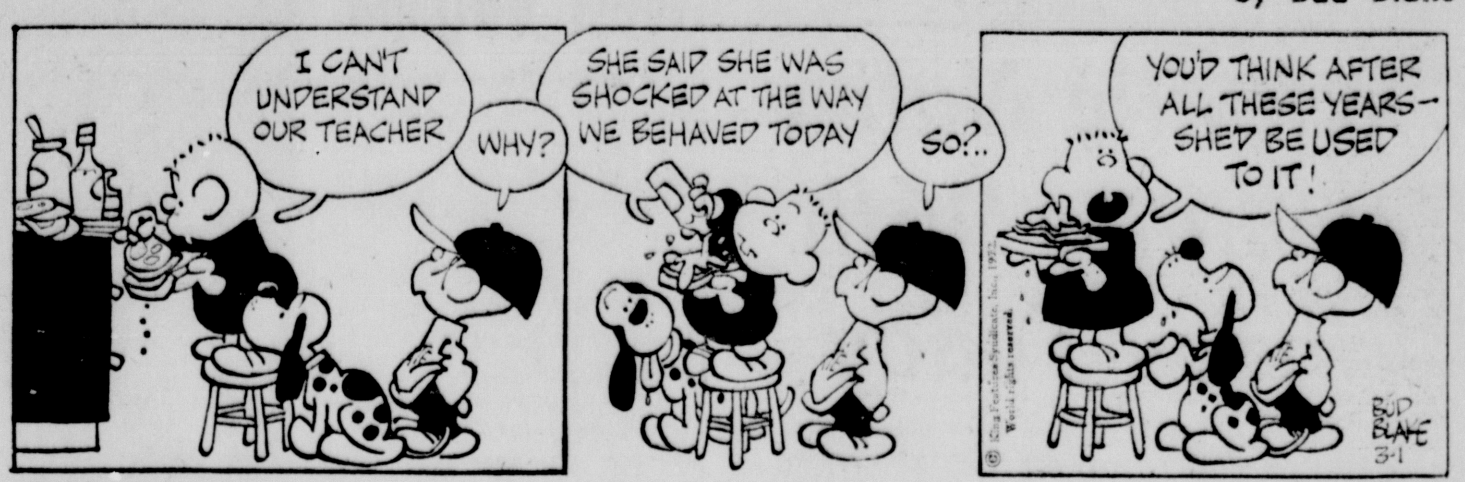

RATES IN PROCESS OF ELIMINATION
The following rates in process of elimination will be withdrawn: consumers previously served thereunder will be served under the General Service Rate Schedule:
ELEMOSYNARY INSTITUTION RATE (ORIGINAL SHEET NO. 42)
POWER RATE (ORIGINAL SHEET NO. 44)
POWER RATE (ORIGINAL SHEET NO. 47)
POWER RATE (ORIGINAL SHEET NO. 48)
POWER RATE (ORIGINAL SHEET NO. 50)

The object of the Application requests the Commission to do the following:
(a) Find that the present rates fail to yield sufficient compensation for the services rendered.
(b) Find that the increased rates and charges proposed herein are just and reasonable and approve the same.
(c) Approve the filing of the new schedules, including the rules and regulations applicable thereto.
(d) Grant such other orders as may be proper.

A copy of said Application, including a copy of the existing and proposed schedule sheets, may be inspected by any interested party at the office of The Public Utilities Commission, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio and at any public business office of the Company.

The filing of this notice has been approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Circleville Native Celebrates 96th Birthday Today

By MICHELE HULSE
Herald Staff Writer

A lively and interesting "young" woman spends her days crocheting doilies and generally keeping busy at the Pickaway Manor.

Time has managed to silver the hair of Rose Stephens, but she has eluded many of its effects capably. Today, celebrating her 96th birthday, Mrs. Stephens claims to be the oldest resident of the Manor.

Pickaway Grange

Inspection was the highlight of the meeting of Star Grange when they met Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium for their regular meeting Feb. 22.

The worthy master, Harold Furniss, presided over the business session and heard the various reports. The Women's Activity Committee chairman, Mrs. Wilbur Beathard, announced that the sewing and baking contest will be held on April 25 and urged members to participate. She explained the many projects we would be required to do to complete her year's work. She then read a poem "What Money Won't Buy."

Mrs. Joan Dawson reported on the Youth Grange group and said they would present the program on March 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bidwell, County deputies, were present and inspected the grange and gave a favorable report. It was announced that the county-wide Grange Banquet will be Saturday evening Feb. 26 at 6:30 p.m.

The program, "Our Grange, The Past, The Present and the Future" was presented by Mrs. Joan Dawson, lecturer. It opened with a piano solo, "The Anniversary Song" by Helen Hammel. Each grange member present was asked to tell something they remembered especially about our grange. This proved very interesting and humorous.

Laura Long read an article, "If Christ Returned Today" and the group sang "No Time Like the Present." Jimmy Beathard read a poem, "When We Meet We Eat" and an exercise contest was held after which Mrs. Dawson thanked the group for dusting their seat. MISS HALL

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hall (Linda Durazio), Route 5, are the parents of a 6-pound 7-ounce daughter born 12:22 a.m. Wednesday in Berger Hospital.

but is much more sprightly than many 30 years her junior.

A hip injury over a year ago took her out of circulation and placed her in the nursing home. She exclaimed "I feel as young as I ever did" and comments simply that her bad hip prevents her from returning home and being active as she would like to be.

Needlework, which she uses to occupy her still nimble fingers, is part of the Circleville native's background. In her 60s, she began assisting the head of the Pumpkin Show home arts display and soon took over the job herself. She admits to spending 25 years enjoying the hectic pace of exhibit director and assistant during the fall festival before her age and injury forced her to give it up.

UNDER her direction, the exhibit grew from "an armload of entries" to over 500 items by the time she retired.

Her eyesight remains good and her fingers quite agile even though only four years from the century mark. "I have to do something — I can't sit around and do nothing."

Before her Pumpkin Show duties, Mrs. Stephens spent much time in church work and now recalls many happy hours of cooking and serving banquets and dinners.

She will laugh as she recalls one time when the menu called for pea pattie shells. Apparently while the peas were heating in the stove, every woman there became the chef and added thickening to the pot. "By the time the peas were heated through," Mrs. Stephens recalls, "there was thickening enough to thicken the canal."

With other members of her church, the Presbyterian Church, she produced fine chicken salad, noodles or vegetable soup for which they took orders and sold. Occasionally they even held pie cakes and sold the results, reportedly the best available in Roundtown.

Birthday cards and presents started arriving Tuesday for Mrs. Stephens and she reports the pile will grow. Her pleasant attitude has made and kept her many friends and, even though confined to the home, she remains interested in life and people.

The UAW issued a statement asking "that some changes be made so both parties can get along and work together for the good of our community."

Most of the miners were from Southeastern Ohio, where Hanna Coal Co. President Ralph Hatch said Sunday his mines would close if the bill became law.

Bills passed in the House during the day included ones to:

—Require the director of public works to advertise in area newspapers for bids on state projects.

—Set up housekeeping procedures for the organization of the Constitutional Revision Commission.

—Requires protective impact resistant safety glasses for children involved in dangerous school activities such as chemistry.

Two bills were introduced to exempt 5,000 in pension income from the state income tax. One applies to the employee and the other to a disabled employee or an employee's estate.

Borgnine Is Denied Custody Of Children

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Ernest Borgnine has been denied custody of his two children pending the outcome of a divorce proceeding.

Borgnine is seeking custody of his daughter Sharon, 6, and son Cristofer, 5, from his fourth wife, Donna, who petitioned for divorce last September. The couple were married in Juarez, Mexico, in 1965.

that burst Saturday, nor Pittston Coal Co., which owns Buffalo, should be blamed because "you can't say it's someone's fault."

"They bought this," he said of Pittston, which purchased the Logan County Coal Co. a couple of years ago.

"There should not be tougher regulations just to make it tougher on the coal companies," he said. "Some regulations in the past have been unfair to the coal companies because they were made by persons not real knowledgeable about the coal mining business."

Herman had a working agreement at his general store in Lorado, which still stands, with Pittston, and took payroll deductions from Buffalo employees to pay off bills.

The Charleston Gazette reported in this morning's editions that the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) said in a survey five years ago that the dam, then ten years old, was "unstable."

The newspaper said the earthen dam, a large bank of coal mine refuse, was described in a USGS report as:

"Unstable. . . Could be overtopped and breached. Flood and debris would damage church and two or three houses downstream, cover road and wash out railroad. . . Lake contains about five million cubic feet of water."

State Public Service Commission Chairman Elizabeth Hallinan pointed out Tuesday that state law doesn't provide for inspection and maintenance of impoundments similar to the one at the head of Buffalo Creek.

Where 5,000 people once lived, National Guardsmen estimate there are now about 1,000. None of them has utilities and many are bunched together in hillside houses which escaped the floodwaters.

Many persons are still unaccounted for, but the number fluctuates continually as refugees come down from the mountains, where they escaped the raging flood one federal official has said must have been like a "wet tornado."

The governor's office reported about 50 people had been found huddling in a mine shaft and had been taken to Man for hospitalization. Herman said there were 28 people, not 50, and that they were in a coal company office and taken for minor treatment just like hundreds of others.

Tuesday, state police reported a body had been pulled from the Guyandotte more than 50 miles from Man, where Buffalo Creek joins that river, and about 10-12 miles from where it empties into the Ohio River. They had no way of knowing if that body came from Buffalo Creek, but as early as Sunday two bodies from the area had been found 25 miles downstream.

Taxation Department Publishes Booklet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Taxation has published a 16-page booklet to explain the state's new personal income tax to Ohioans.

Tax Commissioner Robert Kosydar said the booklet may be obtained at the department's main office in Columbus or any of its eight district offices.

He said the booklet contains questions and answers about the tax, plus sample tax computations and withholding charts and sections dealing with the Homestead Exemption and 10 per cent real property tax reduction.

Year After Capitol Bombing Finds Case Still Unsolved

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was 1:32 on the morning of March 1, 1971, and the anonymous caller who said a bomb would explode inside the U.S. Capitol in exactly 30 minutes had his facts straight.

One year after that pulverizing blast, a $100,000 reward posted by Congress is still unclaimed and a long tangle of investigations, grand jury hearings and other court actions has yet to come to fruition.

The Capitol police force thanks to an all-out recruiting drive, is now at its highest level in history. Plans are moving to install an elaborate $3-million surveillance net manned with 100 television cameras to watch silently over the home of the United States Congress.

The bomb had been laid carefully behind a false wall in a little-used restroom next to the senatorial barbershop.

The blast demolished the washroom, cracked and peeled the walls of nearby corridors and knocked out part of a stained-glass portrait of George Washington in the senators' dining room hundreds of feet away.

The call that heralded the blast was recorded in routine fashion. "This building will blow up in 30 minutes," the caller said. "You will get many calls like this but this one is real. Evacuate the building. This is in protest of the Nixon involvement in Laos."

There are virtually no visible scars remaining to point out to the hundreds of tourists who daily pass the explosion site in the Capitol's central corridor.

Repairs were finished several months ago at a cost of something less than $200,000.

Police at the Capitol's many doors have become somewhat less anxious about checking the contents of every lunch sack. But security is generally far tighter than a year ago. And it may get tighter. Legislation was introduced in the House recently to authorize an electronic security system, built around 100 closed-circuit cameras.

The bombing, in the aftermath of armed American and South Vietnamese penetrations into Cambodia and Laos, was claimed as the work of "The Weather Underground" in a letter—never authenticated—delivered to The Associated Press and other news agencies.

The one arrest in the case has been that of a 19-year-old antiwar activist who later said all she ever really wanted to do "was go up in the hills and raise vegetables."

Leslie Bacon, of San Bruno, Calif., denied repeatedly before a federal grand jury in Seattle that she had done anything wrong. She was jailed on a contempt citation for refusing to answer other questions even when granted partial immunity from prosecution.

Several other persons involved in the long case have refused to testify. At least three publicly denied involvement, using virtually the same words: "I didn't do the Capitol bombing—but I really dug it."

Three Injured In Car Crash

Three persons were injured, none seriously, as a car driven by Tony Damico, 80, Chillicothe, ran into the rear of a car driven by Charlotte Downs, 21, Route 3, as she was turning into a private drive off Route 104 11:03 a.m. Tuesday.

Damico and a passenger in his car, Freda Damico, 71, Chillicothe, and Miss Downs complained of injuries.

Damico suffered a lacerated lip, his wife facial lacerations, and Miss Downs suffered neck injuries.

Damico was cited by Deputy Sheriff Bill Dountz for failure to maintain assured clear distance ahead.

The Downs car sustained minor rear end damage, but Damico's front end was a total loss.

Circleville Native Celebrates 96th Birthday Today

By MICHELE HULSE
Herald Staff Writer

A lively and interesting "young" woman spends her days crocheting doilies and generally keeping busy at the Pickaway Manor.

Time has managed to silver the hair of Rose Stephens, but she has eluded many of its effects capably. Today, celebrating her 96th birthday, Mrs. Stephens claims to be the oldest resident of the Manor.

Pickaway Grange

Inspection was the highlight of the meeting of Star Grange when they met Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium for their regular meeting Feb. 22.

The worthy master, Harold Furniss, presided over the business session and heard the various reports. The Women's Activity Committee chairman, Mrs. Wilbur Beathard, announced that the sewing and baking contest will be held on April 25 and urged members to participate. She explained the many projects we would be required to do to complete her year's work. She then read a poem "What Money Won't Buy."

Mrs. Joan Dawson reported on the Youth Grange group and said they would present the program on March 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bidwell, County deputies, were present and inspected the grange and gave a favorable report. It was announced that the county-wide Grange Banquet will be Saturday evening Feb. 26 at 6:30 p.m.

The program, "Our Grange, The Past, The Present and the Future" was presented by Mrs. Joan Dawson, lecturer. It opened with a piano solo, "The Anniversary Song" by Helen Hammel. Each grange member present was asked to tell something they remembered especially about our grange. This proved very interesting and humorous.

Laura Long read an article, "If Christ Returned Today" and the group sang "No Time Like the Present." Jimmy Beathard read a poem, "When We Meet We Eat" and an exercise contest was held after which Mrs. Dawson thanked the group for dusting their seat. A paper contest was held with Mrs. Robert Morgan, Mrs. Carroll Reid, Mrs. Helen Phillips and Mr. Otha Lewis taking part.

Miss Florence Long read "One Hundred Years from Now" and a push button skit was held with Mrs. Helen Hammel, Mrs. Ernestine Lewis, Mrs. Fran Follrod, Mr. Robert Morgan and Harold Furniss taking part. The program closed with group singing, "Onward Worthy Grangers" and refreshments were served from a tea table centered with an arrangement of spring flowers, courtesy of the Women's Activity Committee.
